

THREE ARE ARRESTED IN COUNTY LIQUOR RAID

UNEARTH STILL IN HEN HOUSE LATE SATURDAY

Apparatus Found Buried In Chicken Coop.

THREE ARE FOUND Plead Guilty To Charges and Are Fined $700 In Court.

When a hen house harbors a still is it a hen house still, or still a hen house?

This is the question county authorities headed by Sheriff Funderburg asked themselves Saturday evening after rounding three men on charges of making and disposing of liquor, and capturing one of the biggest and most complete stills taken into custody since trafficking in liquor came into juxtaposition with the law.

The three arrested are Guy Thompson, former Xenian, and in whose possession was found the still; Raleigh Williams, who is believed to have been working from his home on Lynn street and Joseph Foley, Little street, who authorities say was retailing the hooch. Each of the three men entered pleas of guilty when arraigned before Magistrate J. E. Jones Monday and were fined $700 and costs each.

Williams and Foley were taken into custody first in this city, after sheriff's deputies had tracked them about town. Foley was arrested as he was leaving his home on Little Street with a pint and a half of corn whiskey in his pockets according to authorities, while Williams was taken in, after a quantity of the home-made hooch was found at his home on Lynn street.

At the home of Thompson on the Hook road, the officers unearthed the still, buried in the ground under the floor in a hen house. It is said to be the largest and most complete apparatus confiscated, and is constructed from a copper apple butter kettle, carefully sealed. In Magistrate's Court Thompson admitted he had owned the still since December 1, moving it to his home in the country on December 6. He said that he had started manufacturing the booze in January, making two or three gallons at a time, and admitted he had probably distilled between 35 and 45 gallons in this manner. Williams, it is alleged, took the whiskey off his hands, and sold it to Foley who disposed of it to the "trade."

Thompson entered a plea of guilty to manufacturing liquor before Magistrate Jones, while Williams pleaded guilty to selling, and Foley to having liquor in his possession.

WOMEN ADMITTED TO MEMBERSHIP OF U. S. ASSOCIATION

Tokio, Feb. 28.—At a meeting of the American Association of Tokyo held at the Imperial Hotel here recently it was voted to invite the women of the American community to co-membership in the association as full members.

Literally the question was settled when the last State ratified the suffrage amendment several months ago, for the constitution in force by the American Association in Tokyo reads that "any American citizen of full age residing in Japan or interested in Japanese affairs shall be entitled to membership." But the women of Tokyo insisted that they were entitled to a special invitation.

The American Association is composed of the leading American diplomatic, business and professional people in the Tokyo American colony and has in the past, taken an active interest in all matters touching American interests in the Far East. Mr. Robert F. Moss of the Truscon Steel Company, heads the organization.

Leaving the damaged machine and deserting the girl, Galac went home and shot himself in the head, dying an hour later.

Galac is believed to have been intoxicated.

ITALIAN BUDGET REDUCED

Rome, Feb. 28.—Italy's government budget, which 10 months ago had mounted to 14,000,000,000 lire, has now been reduced to 4,000,000,000 lire. It was announced to the senate by Premier Giolitti, amidst loud and prolonged applause.

Harding to Arrive Home Tuesday for Short Visit

President-elect Will Arrive in Washington Thursday—Indications Are That Inauguration Friday Will Be Shortest in History.

En Route with President Elect Harding, Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 28.—President elect Harding whipped his inaugural address into shape today while his special train sped northward on the first leg of its journey to Washington. With only a few stops scheduled, Senator Harding planned to put some hours of uninterrupted work on his forthcoming message and by the time Marion is reached tomorrow morning it is expected the speech will have been completed.

The president elect wants to get all business of a pressing nature out of the way so far as possible, in order that his last visit with Marion home folks be unincumbered with official duties. His Marion neighbors have arranged to give the president elect an enthusiastic send off.

The Harding train ran special after leaving Jacksonville last night. It passed through Atlanta at an early hour this morning over the southern route and was due in Chattanooga at 10:45 a. m. Cincinnati will be reached tonight and Marion early Tuesday morning.

The president elect will have two full days in his home town before proceeding on to Washington to be inaugurated on Friday. The Harding home on Mount Vernon Avenue, the scene of many activities during the campaign, has been rented and the senator and Mrs. Harding will stay at the home of his father, Dr. George T. Harding, during their last visit to Marion.

According to present plans, the president elect and Mrs. Harding will leave Marion Wednesday night, arriving in the capital Thursday afternoon. They will go direct to the presidential suite at the Willard.

Indications are that the Harding inaugural on Friday will be one of the shortest on record. Those around the president elect said today that nothing elaborate in the way of a speech is planned and that it will be devoted mainly to domestic matters.

No further announcements on the cabinet are expected from Mr. Harding until he presents the names to the senate for confirmation on March 4.

SIX SINN FEINERS ARE EXECUTED BY ORDER OF BRITISH

Cork Stirred By Carrying Out Of Death Sentences.

Dublin, Feb. 28.—Six condemned Sinn Feiners were executed by the British military authorities at Cork this morning. The prisoners were executed in pairs. The first pair met death at 8 o'clock, the second pair at 8:15 and the third pair at 8:30 o'clock. The men met death bravely. They walked to the execution field and refused to be blindfolded.

Hundreds of persons waited outside the prison. Many knelt in prayer. Masses were said in all the Catholic churches.

The emotion displayed in the city was said to have been unequalled since the 1916 rebellion.

MARSHALL TURNBULL CALLED BY DEATH

Marshall Turnbull, 70, well-known farmer died at his home two miles from Jamestown on the Cedarville and Jamestown pike Sunday morning. He had been ill two years, suffering from heart trouble and dropsy which finally caused his death.

Mr. Turnbull was a member of the United Presbyterian Church in Jamestown. He had never married. Surviving are two brothers, Joseph L. Turnbull of Jamestown and Rev. J. S. Turnbull of Wichita, Kansas. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at the United Presbyterian Church in Jamestown.

SPOONING PASSED AS O. K. BY N. Y. SHERIFF IN RULING

New York, Feb. 28.—Spooning by young couples atop Fifth Ave. buses was officially recognized as a legitimate outdoor sport.

Sheriff David H. Knott, in a statement made in reply to an anonymous correspondent who complained of the practice, declared that it seemed to him that "a man must be either a crabbed old bachelor or one who has been disappointed in love who will seek to invoke official aid in putting an end to a heritage of nature as old as the world."

"Certainly there is nothing clandestine in spooning atop a bus," he added. "My advice to men who cannot stand the sight of the loving meeting in minds and eyes, and in some cases lips, on a Fifth Ave. bus is that they ride in the subway. A trip or two in the rush hours there ought to cure them. In the subway men and women, boys and girls, are thrown together indiscriminately, and even without the formality of an introduction or acquaintance they are compelled to occupy about the same proximity to each other that the lovers do on buses, sometimes more. The difference is that in the subway this attention is forced upon them, and instead of billing and cooing one hears bickering and cussing."

"Let the spooners spoon. They always did; they always will. Why try to awaken them from love's young dream? I want to state that I must refuse to designate deputies to stop what you report represents officially, I think, a conclusion—a state of mind."

"TIP TOE" SIGNAL THEORY INTRODUCED IN MATEWAN TRIAL

Defense Will Claim Detectives Gave Fight Sign.

Mingo County Court House, Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 28.—Did a "tip-toe" signal unloose the bullet battle of Matewan?

The defense in the trigger trial revealed today that it will claim such a signal was given by Detective Albert Felts just before the first shot was fired.

James Anderson, twin brother of S. W. Anderson, the ex-army captain who testified last week, was on the stand when J. J. Coniff, in cross examination, for the first time hinted in open court at this alleged signal which is expected to loom big through out the trial after the state rests its case at noon today.

The Anderson brothers are survivors of the gun-fight. They, with three other Felts detectives, are charged with the murder of C. C. Testerman, mayor of Matewan, and two others. Both Andersons are decorated veterans of the Great War.

The witness swore that Albert Felts fell on the first shot—that there was a pause after this shot until a volley followed—between three hundred and four hundred in all.

Anderson was grilled severely by Coniff who made him go over and over the beginning of the bullet rain.

BEGIN INVESTIGATION OF TRAIN WRECK WHICH COST MORE THAN THIRTY LIVES

LIST OF DEAD MAY APPROACH NEARLY FIFTY

Known Killed Now Placed at 38, Others Believed Buried.

NO BLAME PLACED

Towerman Gives Vivid Description of the Fatal Smash.

Porter, Ind., Feb. 28.—Forty two known dead at noon marked the tragic toll of the New York Central-Michigan Central rail horror here. It seems certain that the death list would be swelled as rescue parties continued their search under the grim monument of wreckage, which marks the scene of last night's crash of the Michigan Central "Canadian" and the New York Central "Interstate Limited."

Thirty six of the bodies were in the improvised morgue at Chesterton, a mile from here and three in Michigan City, Ind., when just before noon, three other bodies were found. At this hour the number of injured was placed at close to one hundred. It was considered remarkable that those of the injured who did not die within an hour or two were but slightly hurt.

L. W. Keeler, superintendent of schools at Michigan City, Ind., listed among the dead in an early casualty list, was not even injured in the crash.

The following statement was given out by the general superintendent of the New York Central: "It seems certain that the Michigan Central train had taken the derail and that the engine miraculously jumped back on the track again just as the New York Central train crashed into it. Officials from Chicago and New York are en route here. It will be a joint investigation and a thorough one. It is impossible to place the blame now. Calling a man guilty of such a thing means calling him guilty of murder."

SENATE IS URGED BY FORD TO HASTEN ELECTION CONTEST

Detroit, Feb. 28.—A telegram urging the senate elections committee to set a date for taking of the balance of testimony in the Newberry-Ford election contest and asking that further witnesses be called, was sent last night by Henry Ford to Senator S. P. Pender, chairman of the elections committee. The telegram was as follows:

"May I again respectfully urge that your committee name a date for taking the balance of the testimony in the main case of Newberry-Ford election contest, and grant the subpoenas for the witnesses, of whom a list was furnished you several weeks ago. I am well aware that senators have been very busy, but for more than a year we have been urging this, and what business is more important than to ascertain whether a seat in the senate has been acquired by the expenditure of vast sums of money, and incidentally the lawful claimant kept out of it."

"I again urge that the pendency of the criminal case in the U. S. supreme court cannot and should not defer action by the senate, because manifestly, any decision by the court would be binding either upon the senate or upon the claimant. That case depends upon the technicalities of criminal law, which cannot dispose of or determine the great fundamental principle involved in my contest."

Announcement that the telegram had been sent was made by Alfred Lucking, Mr. Ford's counsel.

RESCUERS WORK FEVERISHLY TO FREE INJURED

Smashup Occurs early Sunday Evening at Porter, Indiana.

RUNS PAST SIGNAL

Michigan Central Flyer Cut in Two at Diamond Crossing.

Porter, Ind., Feb. 28.—With twenty eight bodies lying in the morgue at Chesterton, Ind., and rescue parties working frantically in the tangled debris to recover the bodies of others who lost their lives in the wreck here last night, the coroner's inquest got under way early today for a thorough probe of one of the most gruesome disasters in railroad history. Best available estimates early this morning placed the total number of dead at least thirty five. Twenty or more persons received injuries.

The wreck occurred when a New York Central flyer crashed into the Canadian limited of the Michigan Central road. The Canadian limited left Chicago at 6 o'clock last night. The New York Central train known as the interstate limited, was bound for Chicago from Boston. The crash occurred about 6:30 o'clock last night.

A thorough investigation of the catastrophe was launched by officials of both roads to determine responsibility. The towerman at the intersection of the two roads claimed that the Michigan Central train ran past two block signals that had been set against it.

Flows Through Coach

There is a diamond intersection of the two roads here. The Michigan Central flyer had half way shot over the intersecting tracks when the New York Central limited plowed through a wooden day coach of the Canadian limited, smashing it to kindling wood and hurling the bodies of the killed and maimed on both sides of the right of way.

The New York Central locomotive after striking the other train which is said to have been traveling at a sixty miles an hour clip left the rails and toppled over.

The fireman was scalded to death and the engineer died soon after being taken from the wrecked and burning cab of his engine.

A majority of the victims were residents of Michigan City. Porter has no physician and but few residents. Those available rushed to the scene with axes, picks and shovels and started preliminary rescue work, together with passengers from the two trains who escaped injury.

The crash was heard for miles and soon there began pouring from the surrounding countryside scores of farmers and their wives and daughters also there came two physicians from Chesterton, a mile away.

While women tore up their skirts to make bandages for the injured then helped them to the homes of residents, where they were put to bed, the bodies were removed first to the town hall here and then to the undertaking rooms in Chesterton where an improvised morgue was set up. The bodies were placed on the floor, on table tops and in chairs while six embalmers worked feverishly to prepare them for inquest today. Some were mutilated as to render identification almost impossible. Four relief trains arrived here during the night from Chicago, Elkhart and Michigan City.

Dramatic Incidents

The scene of desolation and death which followed the crash was filled with numerous dramatic incidents. There was father DeVillie, chaplain in the late war, who crawled amid the smoking debris to administer the last sacraments to the dying.

There was little 9 year old Pearl Cavanaugh whose lifeless body was dug from the wreckage and who held in her tiny hand a bag of candy, apparently just purchased when the crash came. Another strange freak of the wreck was a woman, apparently in her thirties, who was found with her clothing torn completely from her body.

The work of rescue was begun by lantern light while the Porter volunteer fire department played feeble streams of water on the burning wreckage. The whole scene was illuminated by the red glare from the open fire boxes of the locomotives.

The air was filled with shrieks and screams from the injured and the dying many of whom were pinned beneath the wreckage. Train-

MAY AGAIN BE POSTMASTER OF NEW YORK, BELIEF

BRITISH POLICEMEN RETURN FIRE OF IRISH IN AMBUSH

Two Sinn Feiners Shot Dead in Battle Monday.

London, Feb. 28.—Two Sinn Feiners were wounded when a detachment of fifteen British policemen was ambushed near Mullingar, Ireland, this morning. There were fifty men in the attacking party. They fired upon the police from the roadside and the latter returned the fire wounding two of the republicans.

Advices from Dublin this afternoon said the police suffered no casualties.

men, passengers and townspeople armed with axes and picks climbed over the wreckage, chopping away timbers and dragging the injured out to safety. Between 18 and 20 cars were strewn along the right of way, many at crazy angles, while two were reduced to kindling wood.

200 Laborers At Work
Later in the night two cranes and 200 laborers toiled in the blue glare of arc lights in an effort to bring order out of chaos. Special agents of the two roads patrolled the scene of the wreck to prevent possible looting of the dead. The ground for a wide area and even the telegraph wires were covered with splinters and fine bits of glass wood, plus clothing torn from the victims.
The trucks were torn from the locomotive of the New York central train and thrown high into the air. The front was crushed in.
One of the pullman sleepers of the Canadian limited bound for Toronto carried 14 passengers and the other for Montreal carried 18. With the exception of bruises and slight cuts none of the occupants were hurt. The two Canadian parlor cars, one bound for Detroit and the other for Grand Rapids also came out unscathed.
Among the women on the New York Central train was Frances Kennedy, vaudeville star. She was not injured and aided in the care of the injured.
The list of dead shows the names of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Van Riper, of Michigan City. Mr. Van Riper had been an engineer on the Michigan Central for an even fifty years and drove his last engine two days ago, having been retired from active duty on a pension. He and his wife had been to Chicago to celebrate the occasion.

OBSERVERS IN BABY BLIMPS TO WATCH FOR FOREST FIRES

Los Angeles, February 28.—The practicability of employing a small dirigible balloon in aerial forest patrol work is being thoroughly investigated by the forestry service in Washington and it is regarded as possible that one or two of the baby blimps will be added to the air patrol service in the Angeles, Cleveland and Santa Barbara reserves. Many airplanes are now engaged in this fire prevention service.

Major E. W. Kelley, of the Washington office, has been in Los Angeles conferring with manufacturers of the blimps and with Shirley Allen, supervisor of the Angeles reserve.
Major Kelley said his superiors in Washington had been in correspondence with the manufacturers and with forestry officials on the Pacific coast as to the services a blimp could give in fire protection work in the national forests.

The visitor said that many arguments in favor of a blimp had been advanced. One is that a blimp carrying passengers could convey fire fighting ranges to segregated mountain canyons to fight fire which otherwise could not be reached until after many hours of climbing.

Another is that the gas bag can be held stationary in the vicinity of a fire. They could also be used in transporting supplies such as food, and water.

QUAKER CLOTHES LONDON STYLES FOR WOMEN NOW

London, Feb. 28.—Women are to adopt Quaker-like clothes this spring.
No frills, or furbelows, no panniers or bustles, no ornate trimmings are to be accepted by fashionable women during the forthcoming season.
"Women refuse to comply with any attempt to introduce elaborate styles," said the manager of the London House of Lucille's. The lines of the silhouette will be absolutely slim and the skirt which will probably be longer, will be tightened at the hem.

"The only fullness noticeable in the dresses we have already made for wear in the south of France appears slightly above the knees in the form of a lace flounce or a sheath-like overskirt. Sleeves are to be shorter and the popularity for embroidery is dying fast.
The new Spring hats show the same severe tendencies. Even the ostrich feather that curled happily round the crown of a hat a season ago droops from the brim and winds itself around the wearer's neck like a boa constrictor. Other hats seen at a dress parade tilted decidedly above the right ear and most of them have something unusual in the form of a ribbon or garland that droops upon the shoulder.

MRS. W. F. BAKER, of Milwaukie, Oregon, says she has been restored to perfect health by Tanlac after having suffered for twenty years. Her statement is remarkable.

"For the last twenty years I have suffered from stomach trouble in its worst form. I was in misery all the time. If I took a drink of coffee or milk or even water, it would cause belching and gas. In fact absolutely nothing would digest in my stomach. I always had an awful burning sensation in the pit of my stomach. I believe I have taken almost a wagon load of soda for stomach trouble. I would have to take it night and day. Gas would bloat me up so badly I couldn't fasten my clothes. At times my heart would palpitate and flutter so badly I would nearly smother and I would have to gasp for breath. In fact, I thought I had heart trouble.
"I was very fond of cheese and the least bite would throw me right into spasms. I was also very fond of onions, but they would upset me terribly.
"My whole system was out of shape and I was also bothered with rheumatism and neuritis. Pains in my arms and other joints were almost unbearable. I had to carry one of my arms in a sling and couldn't raise it up to my head. My hands would swell up and for a long time I was in just an awful condition.
"I told my husband I guessed I would have to give up and die as the doctors' medicine and other things I took didn't do me any good. Then he got me some Tanlac and said I had to take it. Well, before I finished one bottle I found the things I would eat did not bother me so much. I kept gradually getting better and finally after taking five bottles my trouble was entirely relieved. I can now eat onions, cheese or anything I want. In fact, I am in perfect health in every way. My neuritis and rheumatism have also left me. I know that five dollars worth of Tanlac has done me more good than a hundred dollars' worth of other medicines. I will give the praise of Tanlac as long as I live."
The above remarkable statement was made by Mrs. W. F. Baker, whose address is Milwaukie, Oregon, R. F. N. 2.
Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, in Yellow Springs by A. Finley; Bowersville, N. K. Bowermeister; Fairfield, Paul P. Young; Osborn, C. J. Logsdon; New Burlington, W. C. Smith.

SEN. PENCE SUPPORTS AUTO CLUB STAND ON MOTOR LICENSES

G. G. O. Pence, State Senator from the Fifth and Sixth Districts, has expressed his support of the action of the Greene County Automobile Club against the passage of the bill providing for the licensing of motor vehicle operators in a letter received by Secretary F. J. Slackford of the Chamber of Commerce, acting Secretary of the Automobile organization.

The automobile club at a small meeting some time ago was unanimous in expressing opposition to the bill, which would require that every one driving an automobile or tractor, would have to pay a license over and above the regular license tag fee.

This in some families, would mean that every member who drove the car would have to pay $2 for a license. The action of the small meeting in opposing the bill was endorsed by the large meeting last week. State Senator Pence and Representative M. A. Broadstone were notified of the action of the Club and asked to vote against the measure. The letter from Senator Pence follows:

"My Dear Mr. Slackford:

"I am in receipt of a letter in which you earnestly urge me to oppose the passage of the bill which provides for the examination and licensing of motor vehicle operators.

"I have had some letters relative to this bill both pro and con, but for myself, I see no necessity in such legislation. In fact I feel it would work a hardship on most motor owners and operators. I assure you that I will do all in my power to defeat same.

Respectfully Yours,
G. G. Pence."

FEBRUARY RECORD MONTH IN CELLS

The Hotel de Bastille had a record month for roomers during February, according to the police records kept by Chief M. E. Graham.

The desk register shows that during the month, 56 "sleepers" were enrolled on the state, spending the night behind the bars at headquarters rather than face the cold winds without.

This record exceeds that of February when only 44 applied for permission to spend the night in the city cell block. In each month, 20 arrests were made by the officers.

CITY TEAMS IN NEXT CHAMP TILT TONIGHT

The Shamrocks and the Athletics will come together at the Rink Monday night in the second stanza of the city championship series.

When the curtain raises on the second tilt, it will find the Shamrocks already holding on to one end of the city championship bunting, having won the first game of the series last Monday.

In order to make a fight for the rag, the colored team will have to come back strong Monday night, as the issue will be decided in two out of three games, and should the green and white lads annex another win, the Shamrocks will be over. The game last week was fast and cleanly played, and from the score indicates that the second contest will be a nip and tuck affair.

The Nationals and Regels furnish a preliminary.

JAPAN HAS EYES ON PHILIPPINES

Manila, Feb. 28.—"Japan has her eyes on the Philippines," is the current phrase for the independence of the Philippines is just a clever and smooth piece of Japanese propaganda that eclipses any German propaganda during or since the war.

That declaration was made here today by Dr. G. H. Myers, of Chicago, national representative of the Methodist board of ministers who has just returned from a year's tour of the orient. Touching on the Japanese atrocities in Korea, Dr. Myers said that "if all the atrocities committed by Germany in Belgium and France and all those committed by the Turks in Armenia were put together they would not equal what Japan has done or is doing in Korea, and yet her power is so complete that very little of this ever reaches the ears of the so-called civilized world."

WILLIE DALTON TO BE INDICTED ON CHARGE OF LARCENY

Young Chicago Bank Robber to Feel Weight Of Law.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Willie Dalton, 16 year old bank clerk and $772,000 bond thief, is expected to be indicted today for his sensational crime which ended in his capture Saturday at Heyworth, Ills. He will be arraigned this afternoon.

Dalton, guarded by two detectives and his loot—minus a $500 bond sold to buy an automobile—came back home yesterday. While he was being brought back from Bloomington, Ills. where he was taken from Heyworth, state's attorney Crowe and Assistant's were busy preparing their case against the youth whose robbery was the largest in Chicago's history. Upon his arrival at the detective bureau, Dalton was booked on a charge of larceny. He is being held in an isolated cell at the detention home.

The immunity offer of officials of the Northern Trust company out of whose offices Dalton walked last Thursday noon carrying his enormous loot, will not prevent Dalton's rigorous prosecution, it was announced today. Both State's Attorney Crowe and John S. Lord, attorney for Lloyd's bonding agency which paid a $25,000 reward Saturday night for Dalton's capture, declared that he will be tried and sentenced early this week, within seven days of the time he committed his theft.

As for Willie, he is ready to take his medicine. He does not expect or want leniency, he declares, despite his mother's plea that he be paroled to her.

THE SENATE VOTES TO END THE "SQUIRT" IN THE GRAPE FRUIT.

Even senatorial dignity is not proof against a resilient and agile grape fruit and even senatorial eyes have been the victim of the acid stream which often flies at a tangent from the "citrus mastodonis."

Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, acted as savior of the breakfast table. Primarily the Arizona senator was interested in obtaining the money so that the Southwestern deserts might blossom with fig and date trees. Pages under his direction presented to each senator samples of what the West can do in the way of raising figs heretofore native of Smyrna and date indigenous to Arabia, until each senatorial jaw swung in synchrony to the measured sentences of the speaker, and the manager of the Senate restaurant reported a considerable falling off in patronage.

But although the senators ate they showed no enthusiasm for the infant Arizona industry until Senator Ashurst reached his climax and informed the Senate he wished to have the $10,000 added to an existing appropriation of $51,600 to "investigate the psychology of crop plants and for testing and breeding varieties thereof," because the government already had been able to change the recalcitrant grape fruit from a geyser to a leak and hoped soon to eliminate the vexatious overflow altogether.

"Tangerines have been crossed with grape fruit in this psychological work of the government," Senator Ashurst said. "Let me read what the report of the Bureau of Markets says: 'The pulp of the resultant cross is so tender that it can be removed with a spoon without cutting away the segments, and, moreover, there is little or no tendency of the juice to squirt when the spoon is inserted.'"

The national pocketbook then was unloosened to the tune of $10,000.

LENINE AND TROTZKY STILL HOLDING THE WORLD BY THE THROAT.

Japan will be no party to any project of universal disarmament, and from the moment that one great power declines to disarm the others cannot afford to do so. Under the circumstances the contemplated international congress for disarmament, which it is said that the new President of the United States proposes to summon at an early date after his inauguration, seems doomed beforehand to failure.

If Japan cannot disarm it is not because she entertains any imperialistic ambitions of conquest. Neither will her objection to disarmament be due to those hostile designs which so many in America seem to believe she harbors against the United States. If Japan cannot disarm it is because of vital considerations of defense.

All her interests on the mainland of Asia, nay, her very own existence within the borders of her island empire, are gravely menaced by the Bolshevik peril. There is a growing conviction in Japan, and also in Europe, that as Bolshevik rule fails in European Russia, mainly on economic grounds, it will seek refuge in Siberia, where the soil is more fertile to such abnormal forms of government and where the resources of the country are immeasurably greater. It is already on the cards that Lenin, Trotsky and their Soviet junta may be long transfer themselves and their headquarters from Moscow to central or even Far Eastern Siberia; and once established there they will become a far greater peril to Japan than was ever Russia in the days of the czars.

What Japan has to fear is an all-Red Siberia. She cannot afford to have the Bolsheviks established at Vladivostok or elsewhere within easy reach of the Japanese coasts, for it would facilitate that sinister propaganda which Lenin and Trotsky employ as a sort of poison-gas preparation for armed attack. And it must be confessed that with the increasing modernism of the Japanese people and the remarkable falling off of their reverence for their sovereign dynasty and of their belief in the religious faiths of their forefathers, the masses offer a particularly fertile field for any crazy propaganda, be it socialism, anarchy or the most extreme form of bolshevism. With an all-Red Siberia, Japan would find it difficult to hold her possessions on the mainland, nay, her very national existence would be at stake. That is why she cannot afford to disarm.

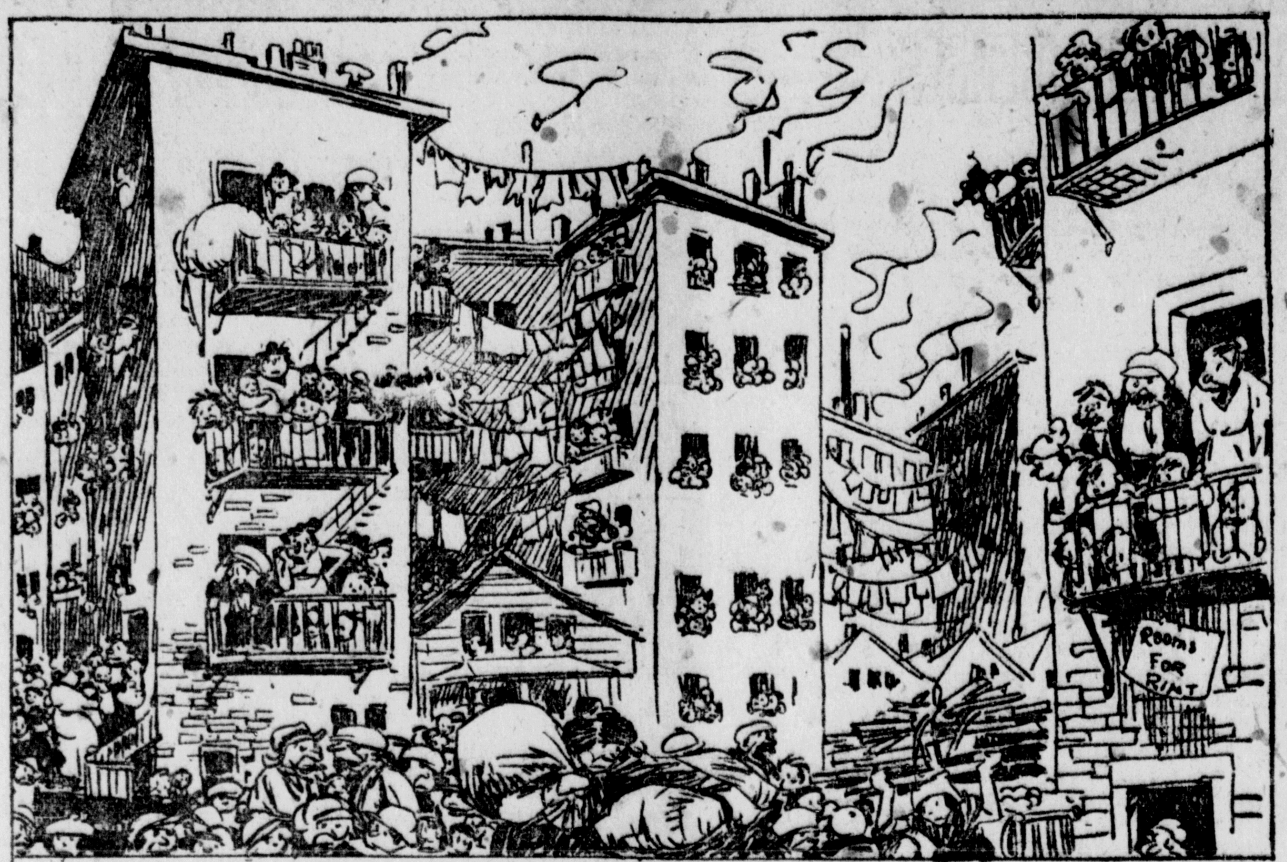

THREE CHEERS FOR THE PATRIOTIC FARMERS OF AMERICA.

The all-American committee for famine relief in China has announced acceptance of the tentative offer of 5,000,000 bushels of corn made by American farmers for the relief of the famine sufferers. The committee stipulated that the grain, in order to accomplish the purpose intended, should arrive in China by the middle of May.

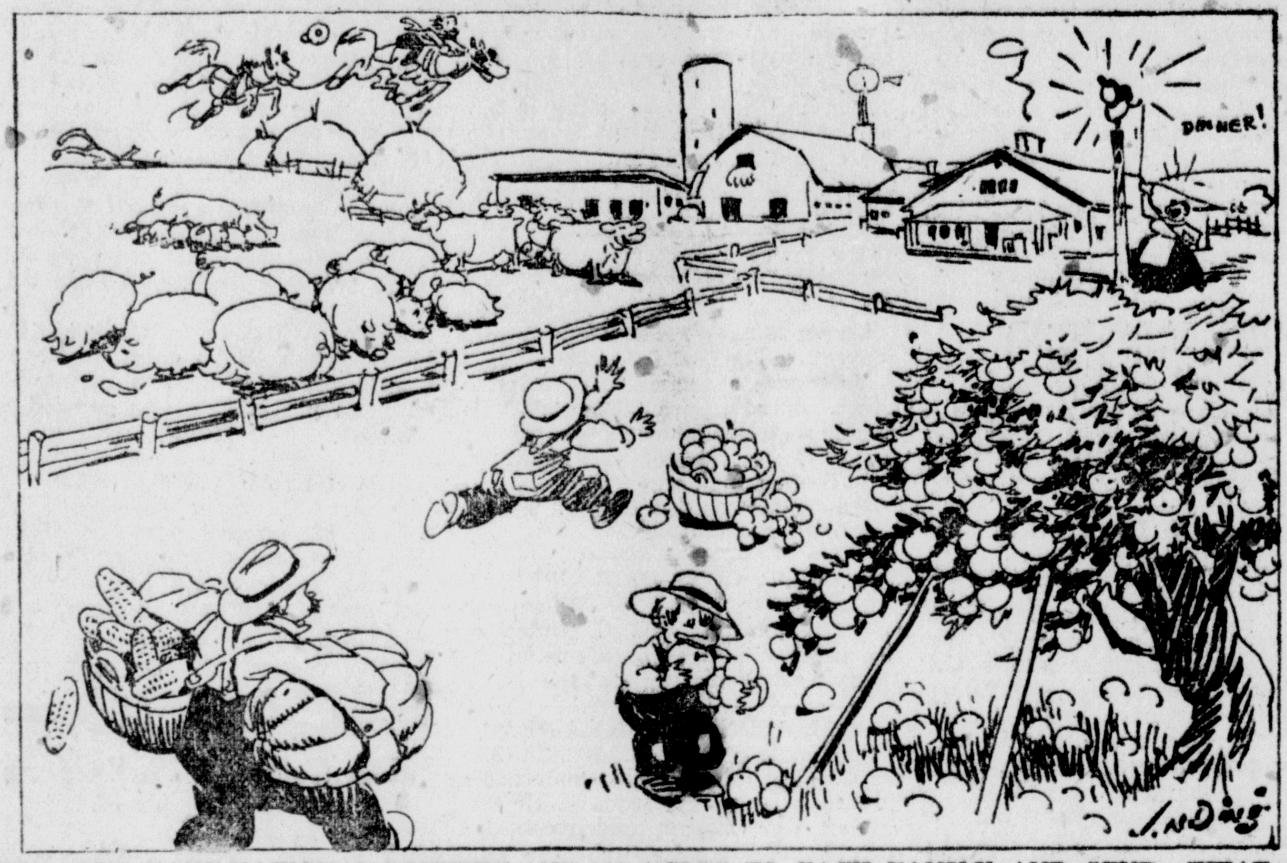

Plans were recently outlined to Secretary of the Navy Daniels or providing a "mercy fleet" to carry to China the grain donated by American farmers for the millions of starving Chinese in the famine-stricken districts. The committee which presented the plan to the secretary in Washington pointed out that railroad employees had volunteered to haul the grain to the Pacific coast from the various contributing areas.

Mr. Daniels told the committee he was sure there would be no difficulty in securing enough naval reserves to volunteer for the trip across the Pacific in shipping board vessels; the understanding being the men would be provided with transportation, quarters and food by the navy.

CONFER'S CENTRAL HIGH QUINTET ALL SET FOR BIG TOURNEY

Coach Harold Confer and his central High School basketball team will depart Thursday afternoon for Delaware where they will participate in the Southern Division rounds of the annual state basketball tournament held at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Eight men will make the trip, including the five regulars and three substitutes. Besides the athletes it is expected that a number of fans and rooters will also accompany the team to the college town to add little cheer to the playing of the locals. Principal Harper Hendry announced today that there would be no rally and parade such as was given the team as a send off last year.

Fans who have been hoping that some time or later the blue and white quintet will shake off the old jinx that seems to bother them in the annual state tournament, are hoping their dreams will come true this year. In the years that the local teams have been entered they have sent some good teams to Delaware, but there, they have each failed miserably in an attempt to play even as well as their previous showing justified. There is no denying that the team this year is among the topnotchers, and if the lads keep their heads where they belong, which is on the top of their necks, they should make an impression at least.

BEAUTY CHATS

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

One of the questions that is frequently asked me concerns the best method of removing superfluous hair from the face. My answer must always be the same. There is only one permanent way of taking hair from the face, and that is by the electric needle method. Now it is satisfactory way is what is called the "multiple needle process." This means that several needles are inserted where the hairs grow and then a tiny shock of electricity is sent into them, not enough to hurt but only enough to kill the hairs.

This is quicker than the single needle process. It takes off more hairs in the same length of time and only about 10 per cent of them come back. In the single needle process, about 25 per cent come back. This is due to the presence of another hair in the follicle, which grows after the first has been killed.

Charges for these treatments vary from about $1 to $5 an hour any where from 10 to 50 or more hairs can be killed in an hour's treatment. If you cannot reach an electric needle specialist the best thing you can do is to bleach the place where the hairs grow by using a mixture of equal parts of peroxide and household ammonia. This will make the light growth of hair invisible and will discourage a new growth.

The prominent hairs can be pulled out with tweezers. New hairs may grow in but they can be pulled out again and the process is perfectly harmless. These little tweezers can be purchased in any drug or department store. Touch these places where the hairs come out with a little peroxide.

"Blue Eyes.—If your hair was once thick but the front part is now all short ends, I suspect that you have been roughing it or wearing false hair, or else curling the front. If you have been doing any of these things stop at once and give your hair a chance to come in again. meantime you might use a tonic on it.

Rippling Rhymes

THE CRUCIAL TIME.

The country's reached an evil pass, and there is worse to follow; this readjustment stuff, alas, is pretty hard to swallow. So speak the jays, in doleful bands, who grunt and grumble daily; throughout their lives they wring their hands, and murmur, "Willow-waly!" But wise men say that bitter times are just what we are needing; we're learning now to prize the dimes we used to blow unheeding. We used to spend our coin in haste, for all the junk they'd dish us; we're learning now that wanton waste is foolish, vain and vicious. We had to learn that much of truth, and heal the spendthrift canker, and take our earnings to the booth where dwells the village banker; we had to learn this sort of dope, and quit our money burning, before there could be any hope of stable times returning. We're getting down again to tacks, we cease our spendthrift ravings, and you may see us making tracks to salt away our savings. When we are seedy, sick and sore, it takes strong dope to cure us; and now Good Health is at the door, the wise old lads assure us. The medicine we have to take may seem a trifle bitter, but what's the diff if it will make each gent a healthy critter?

there to work out the kinks and train for the coming season. More are to follow next week, and with the departure of each outfit, roseate promises of the future are seriously prophesied by their particular favorites up here where winter still reigns.

The departure of the teams for the spring training camps, is causing the stove league devotees, to make their annual pre-seasonal prophecies. Raymond Goodin, porter at the Coates barber shop, who startled fans with his unseemly prophecies of the World Series results last fall, is dusting off his oulga board for this season's work.

Goodin, who is one of the famous twins, and known as the "tonor" singing porter, is already announcing the winners in each league. The Cincinnati Reds, 1919 National League winners, are going to cop the rag in that outfit again this season, according to this prophet, who believes that Manager Pat Moran can again steer his charges to first place. For an American League winner he picks the New York Yankees, who lay claim to the famous "Babe" Ruth.

James M. Canaday, former Chief of Police, and another ardent baseball bug, makes a like selection, which coincidence may really be a sign that it is to come true. He says Cincinnati will win the National League bunting and New York will come out on top of the sister league scrap. Charles F. Greenlee, prominent man-about-town and first-nighter, who this year, as well as formerly held a seat to the opening game in Cincinnati, makes a different prediction. He says that it will be a New York-New York affair this year, with the Giants and Yankees winning in their respective leagues.

Probate Judge J. Carl Marshall, who when not meeting out justice from the bench, is another ardent baseball fan, does not make a prediction for the American League championship and, his National League prediction covers a lot of ground. Judge Marshall's choice in the National lies between Cincinnati, New York and Brooklyn, last years winners, but he is not interested enough in the American League to pick a winner.

Karl Bloom, ranks himself among those loyal fans, who still think the Cincinnati Reds are in the running. Mr. Bloom pins his faith on Pat Moran's athletes for the National League rag and he assumes that the Chicago White Sox will come back in the American, which will make it a repetition of the 1919 series if this prophecy comes true.

Dan A. Smith, veteran baseball bug and former player himself, who has hurled many a game, believes that our old friend Jawn McGraw is due for a come-back after the way Brooklyn crowded him out last season, and that the Giants will win the pennant in the older league easily. For a choice in the American he picked the Cleveland Indians, present World's Champions, and as a matter of fact was the only fan among six interviewed who believes the Champs will come back this season. Mr. Smith holds that any team that has the nerve to comeback after such a set-back as the Indians received with the death of Chapman last year, has the kind of stuff of which champions are made.

And thus the annual spring prophecies are being spoken now. Next fall, they will either have died in the memory of their creators, or will be good cause for the annual chorus of "I told you so!"

COLUMBUS CROWD CANCEL'S CONTEST

Arrangements for what was expected to be the biggest high school basketball game of the season were knocked in the head by the cancellation of the game booked here with Central High Saturday night by the East High quintet of Columbus.

Fans were looking forward with much interest to the pastime and many were disappointed at the failure of the Columbus quintet to be on hand. It is believed by local officials, that East High, which has been defeated by Greenfield High, was avoiding a similar occurrence at the hands of the locals in cancelling the game.

NEW ANTISEPTIC SUCCESS IN CASE OF ANTHRAX CURES

Chicago, Feb. 28.—An antiseptic preparation made from proflavine and acriflavine dyes is being used successfully under the supervision of the city Health Department here in an anthrax case.

Severe cases of anthrax the bacterial disease spread by the hair of animals, have almost invariably proved fatal. Recently the new preparation was first tried on Joseph Fritz an anthrax victim with a large malignant pustule on his cheek. Daily subcutaneous injections were made around the edge of the pustule.

Within forty-eight hours the effect of the preparation was apparent according to Dr. Martin Schupman a school health officer treating the case. The disease ceased spreading and new flesh began to replace that which was destroyed by the anthrax germs.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, 15c and 30c.

Newspaper Advertising Starts the Wheels

In November, business had a bluish cast. The financial waters were troubled.

Corn and wheat and cotton were tumbling—business was halting and hesitating. Everywhere you heard the croakers say, "People are not buying."

Then the retailers took the cold plunge. They began to readjust prices and offer inducements.

And they advertised the fact—advertised it in the newspapers of their home cities. They kept at it—and kept at it.

After a bit, buying began to wake up—slowly at first, then in greater volume.

Progressive merchants who know newspaper advertising pulls progressively went at it harder.

Business grew better and better, and by the last of December many merchants were reporting record-breaking sales, and, taking the country as a whole, business was good.

Newspaper advertising saved the day and made it possible for the merchants to clear their shelves and recorder from the manufacturer—thus loosening the clogged stream of commerce and setting the factory wheels in motion.

Newspaper advertising is the greatest single business force on this continent today.

Mrs. WAGNER of PALM BEACH

Tells Girls How She Found
Relief From Pain

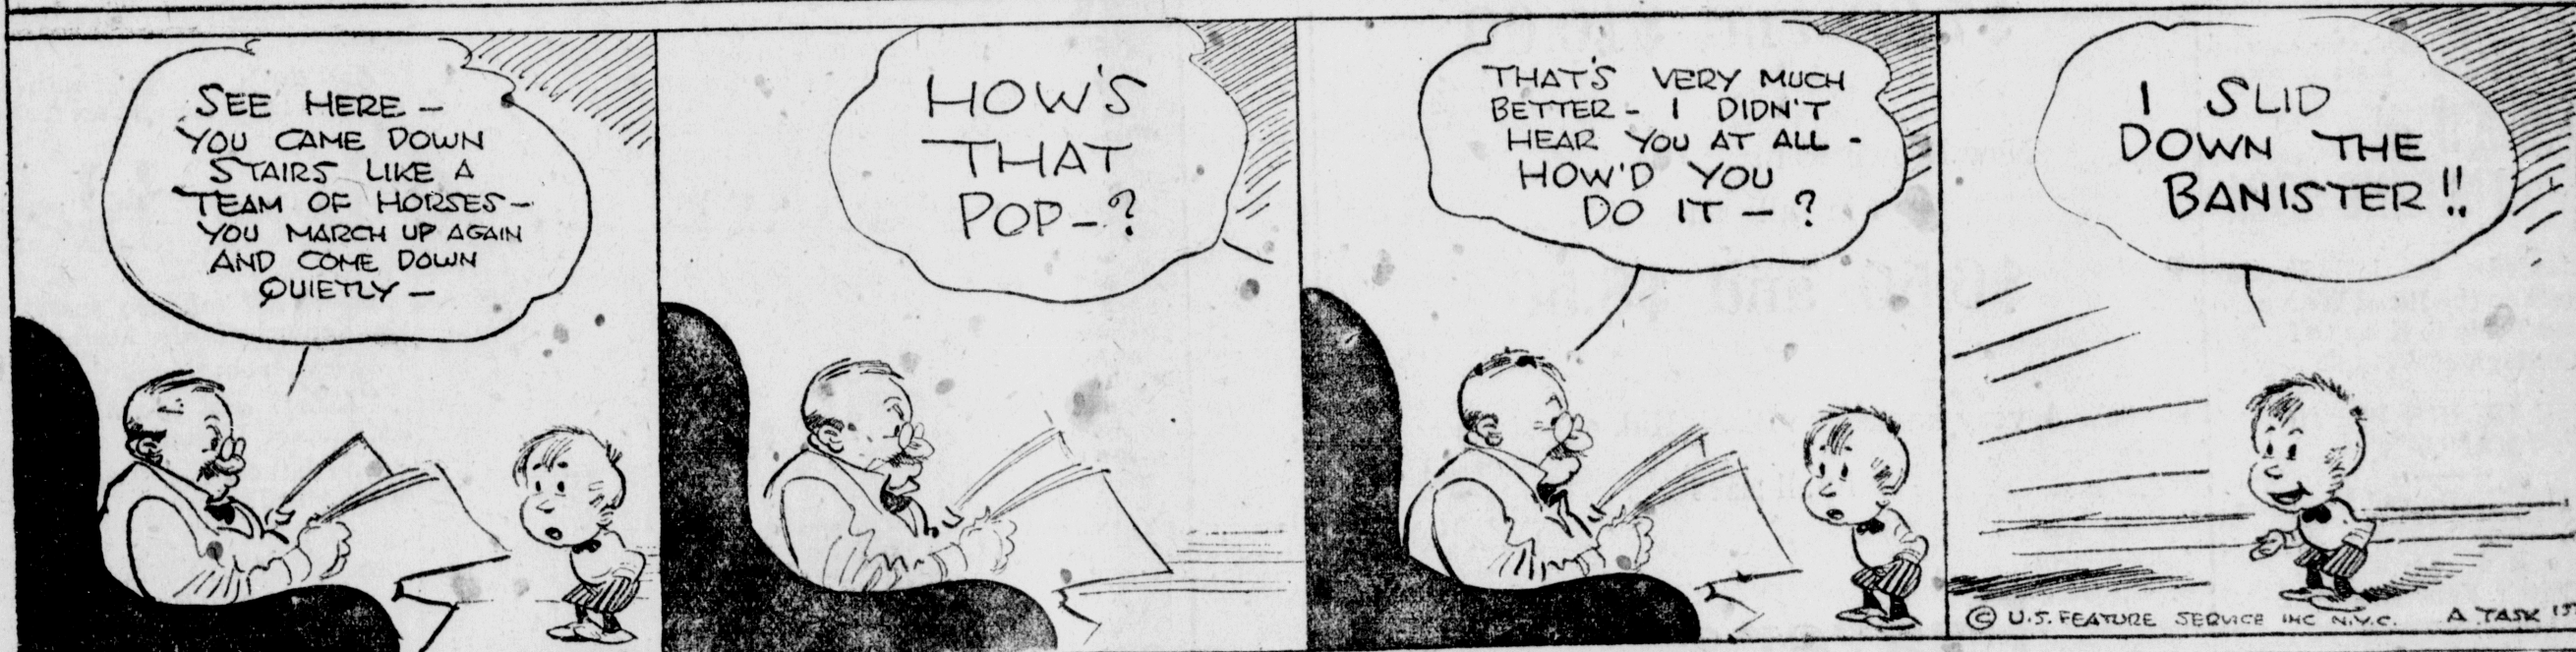

West Palm Beach, Fla.—"When I was 19 years old I was irregular and I had such terrible cramps it felt like a knife going through me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I was cured. After I was married I had the same trouble caused by the added work of farming and heavy washings so I told my husband to get six bottles of the Vegetable Compound and by taking it regularly my troubles ceased and now I never have a pain or ache, and am regular. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and think every young girl should take it. You can publish this letter and it may be the means of helping some other girl or woman."

—Mrs. MARY M. WAGNER, Box 769, West Palm Beach, Florida.

While no woman is entirely free from periodic suffering it does not seem to be the plan of nature that woman should suffer so severely and when pain exists something is wrong which should be set right. Every girl who suffers from monthly cramps should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

The Markets

Traders have been debating the probability of a pre-inauguration boomlet, largely of a sentimental character. At times in the past stocks have reflected the hopeful expectation with which the advent of a new administration was regarded. The attitude of Harding and his cabinet toward business is well-known and has tended to establish confidence. It has been at least partially discounted. Current industrial depression will probably suppress any exuberance that might otherwise manifest itself.

Conditions in the stock market have made slow improvement without attracting speculation. The list has not yet begun to discount a pronounced recovery in business, disappointing those who hoped for a return of normal business this spring. The monetary situation has changed but little. The March 1 payments may bring some tightening. The new financial year will begin to take more definite shape within another month.

Grain

Clearances of wheat and wheat flour this season exceed 300,000,000 bushels compared with less than 200,000,000 last year. The visible supply is about 40 per cent normal, taking an average for the past several weeks. When Argentina disposes of her surplus, European buyers will re-enter the American market in force. It is believed, diminishing the already meager supplies. Other factors tending to uphold prices are the likelihood of a "crop scare," tariff negotiations, possibility of reduced acreage this spring, and the traditional movement of prices upward at this time of year. Opposed to them are slow and will export demand and general conditions. Export demand has aided corn. Spring will soon make dirt country roads well-nigh impassable and spring work will further reduce offerings.

Livestock

Industrial depression is still restricting meat consumption, especially beef and mutton. Retail buyers are paying high prices, partly owing to the fact that meat pays a relatively higher percentage of total cost than in the past now that hides and wool are flat and other by-products have declined greatly in price. The market is very sensitive to volume of receipts. Diminution of receipts invariably tends to stabilize prices and sometimes forces them higher, but no radical or long sustained improvement is in prospect. A rise sometimes stimulates loading and sometimes by infusing confidence, restricts it. The supply of cornfed cattle is adequate for immediate needs and moderation is desirable in marketing. Stocker trade probably has passed its point of extreme depression and interest should revive. Hog supply is ample, but the market remains comparatively strong. Sheep and lambs have touched the lowest points in five years with slight probability of relief.

Cotton

Depression still retains its grip upon the cotton market and the likelihood of a revival in the near future is not great. Mixed reports come from the goods trade, but a considerable proportion of them are depressing. Sterling stocks, grain, and other marketable goods upon which cotton depends for assurance betray hesitancy. The trend has been mainly downward, although subjects to temporary reversal, and bottom may not yet have been touched. Traders recognize, however, that stocks of merchandise are diminishing and that public demand, long held in check will one day reassert itself.

Wool

Progress of emergency tariff legislation and the practical certainty that wool will figure in the permanent revision upward expected during the next session have created a more favorable sentiment in the wool market than could otherwise have been in the face of stocks far beyond all immediate demands and a new clip coming on. Many mills are running that were closed a month ago and are buying steadily, although not in large volume. Americans have bought foreign wool heavily to bring in before the tariff laws makes importation unprofitable.

Metals

The iron and steel industry continues much depressed. Blast furnaces

KEEP BLOOD IN FIGHTING TRIM

Thin-Blooded People Should Strengthen the Blood With a Good Tonic to Keep Off Contagious Disease

TAKE GUD'S PEPTO-MANGAN

If You Tire Easily and Feel Run Down, Your Blood Needs More Red Corpuscles. Watch Your Blood Condition Now

It is thin-blooded, anemic people that disease strikes first. If any of the disease germs that so often become epidemic catch you in a run-down condition, they are able to take hold—and the first thing you know you are ill. But if you are in good condition, your blood vigorous, rich and red, your system is able to throw off the effects of germs that are so prevalent when an epidemic breaks out.

Make up your mind to this fact—you are either well or you are not well. And the common-sense thing to do is to be on the safe side. If you are in doubt, take that wonderful blood tonic, Gud's Pepto-Mangan. It makes blood rich and red. It increases the number of red corpuscles, and your system is better able to fight the ravages of epidemics.

Watch your children. If they are pale and wan and thin-blooded, give them Gud's Pepto-Mangan. Gud's Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form and is sold by druggists everywhere. The liquid and tablets have exactly the same medicinal value. Buy whichever you prefer, and be sure it is genuine "Gud's Pepto-Mangan." The name "Gud's" is on the package.

and the machinery to finance exports. The agency would furnish information to growers.

The committee's plan is ambitious. Its worst fault is, perhaps, that it calls for the creation or purchase of distributing facilities national and international in scope and complete in every detail and their administration by a corps of experts whom only years of service can give the requisite experience. Barring the elevators and local grain associations it incorporates no established system, but seeks to create even the foundations upon which it is to stand.

The successful operation of so gigantic a machine a high degree of action is required and a concentration of financial power of which even the great farm organizations acting in concert might not be capable. Whether the plan remains a plan merely and serves as a basis for other plans or whether it is put to test depends in no small part upon the attitude of the individual member of the farm bureau.

The March 1 settlements are at hand and will involve the liquidation of debts and payment of loans running far into the millions. The banks are pressing many borrowers for payment against the day when these same borrowers will apply for further loans to finance spring planting. Liquidation in preparation for the March 1 settlements may be less than was anticipated. Many farmers have shipped grain or livestock and obtained the ready cash with which to meet their obligations. Farmers are cautioned against liquidating too rapidly and thereby demoralizing the market. The livestock market especially is sensitive and receipts govern the fluctuation of prices. Moderation is good in marketing, as in all things.

TREATY CHANGES OPPOSED

Washington, Feb. 23.—A resolution opposing any revision of the Seares treaty that would reduce territory awarded to Greece or restrict liberties of Christians in former Turkish territory was introduced by Senator William H. No—people, we will never appear ridiculous by asking you to believe that we could start in the telephone directory at the A's and go clear thru to the Z's and please every subscriber's taste in clothes.

But we do say, emphatically too, that from Adam on to the last leaf, we can satisfy every man's conception of VALUE—for there is not another store in this entire state that is giving more dollar for dollar than we are this present season.

We know this to be true, and now we want the opportunity and honor of proving it here in the presence of this Spring showing of good clothes, that for Value is without a peer—from New England to New Orleans.

MASTODONS AFTER DRINK PERISHED IN ILLINOIS BOG

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Once upon a time, or 107,391 years ago this Winter, to be exact—a cute little baby mastodon and its fond mamma went down from Chicago to Minooka, Ill. to get a drink.

Winters were cold in these parts then and practically all the water was frozen over. But down Minooka way there was a spring that bubbled despite the cold.

That Minooka spring was to the mastodon what Cuba is to the thirsty Chicagoan to-day.

Well, the lady mastodon and her offspring got out on the ice and started to drink and the ice cracked and the poor mastodon went crash right through and were drowned.

And when summer came the ice

PLACE IN POLITICAL SUN WILL BE TAKEN BY STATE OF OHIO

Washington, Feb. 28.—When Warren Gamaliel Harding becomes president Friday he will restore his native state of Ohio to a place of political prestige and power which it has not enjoyed since the days of William McKinley and Marcus A. Hanna.

William H. Taft was an Ohio president, but outside the White House there was hardly a single Ohioan conspicuous in the government service during his administration. There was no Ohio man in the Taft cabinet and comparatively few in subordinate executive positions.

Harding has appointed Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus to be his attorney general. George B. Christian of Marion is to be his secretary. A number of Ohio Republicans are slated for responsible and lucrative positions in the governmental departments at Washington.

In the golden era of Ohio Republicanism of 20 odd years ago, when McKinley was president, the Buckeye state had gained a proud pre-eminence which it had never before achieved and has not since.

While the Harding administration is expected to be liberal in its recognition and reward of Ohio Republicans, Buckeye state job seekers will not be permitted to "hog" all the desirable places in the government service.

Carmel A. Thompson, Howard D. Manning, William E. Halley and Charles E. Hard are the type of Buckeye Republicans most likely to be found in responsible executive places at Washington during the Harding administration.

MRS. MARTHA TURNER DIES IN DAYTON

Mrs. Martha Turner, 70, wife of John C. Turner, of Bellbrook, died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Grace Ritenour, in Dayton, at seven o'clock Sunday evening. She had not been well for several months, and it is believed that the recent death of her son-in-law, Dr. W. S. Ritenour, caused a nervous collapse that hastened her death.

Mrs. Turner was before her marriage Martha Cunningham, and was born and raised in Bellbrook where she spent all of her life. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and the County W. C. T. U. and was well known in the village where her husband conducted a grocery store for many years.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Turner is survived by three children, James Turner of Springfield, John of Bellbrook and Mrs. Grace Ritenour of Dayton. One son, Harry Turner, is dead and Mrs. Turner lives in Bellbrook. Two brothers, Charles and William Cunningham of Greenville and Mrs. J. W. Stevenson of Yellow Springs also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the home in Bellbrook Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, and burial will be made in the Bellbrook Cemetery.

BUSY BEES ARE FOOLED INTO ACT OF KEEPING BUSY

Chicago, Feb. 28.—The secret of why the busy little bee improves each shining hour was revealed by E. J. Bryant, deputy state inspector of aparies.

He confided the information that bees only provided enough honey to keep them through the winter and that bee-keepers fooled the bees by enlarging the hives. The bees, believing starvation is near, goes to work industriously to make more honey.

"We make the bees pay their board by working hard," Mr. Bryant said. "And to do that we've had to breed thoroughbred bees, get rid of the slackers and camouflage the hives so that the bees had the idea that their stock of honey for the winter was low. Then they dig just like the man who thinks his coal supply is going to run out before Spring."

Honey is coming into more general use day by day as a substitute for sugar, according to Mr. Bryant.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

JUNIOR DEFINES LOVE AND LIKING

Two weeks later, and just two days before Junior went back to school, Dick came home. He did not look like a man who has been on a vacation. He looked worn, almost ill.

"He has been thinking what to do," flashed through my mind as I saw him. Nothing but mental strain ever brought such a look to anyone's face. Junior and I met his train. I was thankful that Junior was with us. It would have been almost impossible for me not to have shown I sensed something had I been alone with Dick. But even so he was distraught, quiet, seeming to listen to Junior, but I knew by his expression that he scarcely heard a word.

"Der fell in love with Aunt Nita," Junior informed his father.

I was surprised to notice the start Dick gave until he said:

"Der—Der who?"

"Why Derreck, my buddy. He's been here visiting, and he fell for Aunt Nita the minute he saw her."

"How old is this young man?"

The question was asked smilingly, and with a note of relief in his voice and on his face.

"About my age, a month or two younger."

"Juanita must feel flattered."

"She was awful nice to him, Dad. But not half as nice as Mother was. Even Buddy liked Mother the best if he was in love with Aunt Nita."

"What's the difference between loving and liking, Junior?" I asked, amused by his accenting the word.

"Why, you love people because you can't help it, I guess. You like them for something—well, for something in them, something they are, I should say."

He blushed a little, then, "And I'll tell the world that you are all right, Mother."

I smiled at the boy, but was sorry I had asked him to define love and liking. He had given a definition that made me uneasy.

Love—because once even a moment elapsed before Dick couldn't help themselves—Liking—because of some quality of character.

Which would last the longer? Dick had made no comment on Junior's definition, but he had flushed almost painfully.

Had Juanita fascinated him so that he couldn't help loving her, I wondered. Then I put the idea from my mind for the time. I was Dick's wife. By every means in my power I would hold him. I would not give him up without a struggle, of that I was positive. The struggle was not only for myself, but for Junior.

For the two days remaining of Junior's vacation Dick was with us a good deal, although I knew he had gone over to Juanita's the night he came home. He had remained but a short time, and had said something about finding out about a character in his book that troubled him, a man she had known.

I was surprised at first at his explanation. Then I thought of Junior. It was sort of an apology for leaving us. He had not felt it necessary to apologize to me. I had shown myself so dense there could be no need. But with the quick bright eyes and mind of his boy watching him, on the alert, the excuse seemed requisite.

While Dick had been away I had seen very little of Juanita in spite of the boys running there a good deal. It wasn't necessary, and I gave my work as an excuse for not torturing myself by being with her.

X X X

Junior had returned to school. Dick and I were once again alone in the house where I had anticipated such happiness and which I was afraid would prove my Cethesmane.

The study that I had spent so much time and thought upon, was occupied again almost daily by Juanita and Dick in close and intimate conversation—or love-making.

When I tapped on the door and made me uneasy.

Love—because once even a moment elapsed before Dick would say "come in," I could close my eyes and see her in his embrace. But I would go in, and compel my self to sit and chat with them, sometimes remaining until Juanita would declare she must go, and then proposing that we, Dick and I, walk home with her, so forestalling either of them in their wish to be alone.

I took great pains at this time with the home, with my table, and with my own toilet. I used a little of the money I earned for a smart gown or two, with dainty accessories. I had no such desire for dress as I once had, yet I knew that Dick was pleased because I had spent the money—my own money.

"I wish you would use all you earn, Nan," he had once said and I had replied:

"I will when your book makes your fortune."

Now I fancied he felt differently about using the money I banked in our joint account. He had grown almost miserably as far as his own expenditures were concerned. It hurt me dreadfully, and also put the thought in my mind that now he had ceased to love me; he felt degraded in using my earnings.

But I comforted myself that the book was nearly finished. Juanita would soon have no excuse to come so often to the study.

I had forgotten that love always finds a way.

Time Has Proven That The "EASY" Is Best

Forty years' evolution of the "EASY" VACUUM ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINE has proven that the principle upon which it works—air pressure and suction, most nearly approaches the work of human hands.

Thousands of housewives have tried the "EASY" and have found that it does the family washing better and almost without effort.

For the vacuum cups force the hot, soapy water by air pressure through the meshes of the garments and then by suction draw it back again, the same way an expert laundress would wash by hand; without rubbing, dragging or tearing the clothes.

The "EASY" has a large capacity and the big, polished copper tank is easy to load, unload and keep clean. Made of solid copper, brass, aluminum and enameled steel. It is rust proof.

The wringer starts, stops, reverses and swings to any desired position instantly.

The "EASY" is anxious to do your next week's washing and prove that it is the best and most efficient washing machine you ever heard of. Phone for a demonstration today.

THREE ARE ARRESTED IN COUNTY LIQUOR RAID

UNEARTH STILL IN HEN HOUSE LATE SATURDAY

Apparatus Found Buried In Chicken Coop.

THREE ARE FOUND

Plead Guilty To Charges and Are Fined $700 In Court.

When a hen house harbors a still is it a hen house still, or still a hen house?

This is the question county authorities headed by Sheriff Funderburg asked themselves Saturday evening after rounding three men on charges of making and disposing of liquor, and capturing one of the biggest and most complete stills taken into custody since trafficking in liquor came into juxtaposition with the law.

The three arrested are Guy Thompson, former Xenia, who is now living on the Hook road, and in whose possession was found the still; Raleigh Williams, who is believed to be a cooper from his home on Lynn street and Joseph Foley, Little Street, who authorities say was retelling the hooch. Each of the three men entered pleas of guilty when arraigned before Magistrate J. E. Jones Monday and were fined $700 and costs each.

Williams and Foley were taken into custody first in this city, after sheriff's deputies had tracked them about town. Foley was arrested as he was leaving his home on Little Street with a pint and a half of corn whiskey in his pockets according to authorities, while Williams was taken in, after a quantity of the home-made hooch was found at his home on Lynn street.

At the home of Thompson on the Hook road, the officers unearthed the still, buried in the ground under the floor in a hen house. It is said to be the largest and most complete apparatus confiscated, and is constructed from a copper apple butter kettle, carefully sealed. In Magistrate's Court Thompson admitted he had owned the still since December 1, moving it to his home in the country on December 6. He said that he had started manufacturing the booze in January, making two or three gallons at a time, and admitted he had probably distilled between 35 and 45 gallons in this manner. Williams, it is alleged, took the whiskey off his hands, and sold it to Foley who disposed of it to the "trade."

Thompson entered a plea of guilty to manufacturing liquor before Magistrate Jones, while Williams pleaded guilty to selling, and Foley to having liquor in his possession.

WOMEN ADMITTED TO MEMBERSHIP OF U. S. ASSOCIATION

Tokio, Feb. 28.—At a meeting of the American Association of Tokio held at the Imperial Hotel here recently it was voted to invite the women of the American community to come into the association as full members.

But the women of Tokio insisted that they were entitled to a special invitation.

The American Association is composed of the leading American diplomatic, business and professional people in the Tokio American colony and has in the past, taken an active interest in all matters touching American interests in the Far East. Mr. Robert F. Moss of the Trueman Steel Company, heads the organization.

Harding to Arrive Home Tuesday for Short Visit

President-elect Will Arrive in Washington Thursday—Indications Are That Inauguration Friday Will Be Shortest in History.

En Route with President Elect Harding, Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 28.—President elect Harding whipped his inaugural address into shape today while his special train sped northward on the first leg of its journey to Washington. With only a few stops scheduled, Senator Harding planned to put some hours of uninterrupted work on his forthcoming message and by the time Marion is reached tomorrow morning it is expected the speech will have been completed.

The president elect wants to get all business of a pressing nature out of the way so far as is possible, in order that his last visit with Marion home folks be unincumbered with official duties. His Marion neighbors have arranged to give the president elect an enthusiastic send off.

The Harding train ran special after leaving Jacksonville last night. It passed through Atlanta at an early hour this morning over the southern route and was due in Chattanooga at 10:45 a. m. Cincinnati will be reached tonight and Marion early Tuesday morning.

The president elect will have two full days in his home town before proceeding on to Washington to be inaugurated on Friday. The Harding home on Mount Vernon Avenue, the scene of many activities during the campaign, has been rented to the senator and Mrs. Harding and the senator and Mrs. Harding will stay at the home of his father, Dr. George T. Harding, during their last visit to Marion.

According to present plans, the president elect and Mrs. Harding will leave Marion Wednesday night, arriving in the capital Thursday afternoon. They will go direct to the presidential suite at the Willard.

Indications are that the Harding inaugural on Friday will be one of the shortest on record. Those around the president elect said today that nothing elaborate in the way of a speech is planned and that it will be devoted mainly to domestic matters.

No further announcements on the cabinet are expected from Mr. Harding until he presents the names to the senate for confirmation on March 4.

SIX SINN FEINERS ARE EXECUTED BY ORDER OF BRITISH

Cork Stirred By Carrying Out Of Death Sentences.

Dublin, Feb. 28.—Six condemned Sinn Feiners were executed by the British military authorities at Cork this morning. The prisoners were executed in pairs. The first pair met death at 8 o'clock, the second pair at 8:15 and the third pair at 8:30 o'clock. The men met death bravely. They walk to the execution field and refused to be blindfolded.

Hundreds of persons waited outside the prison. Many knelt in prayer. Masses were said in all the Catholic churches.

The emotion displayed in the city was said to have been unequalled since the 1916 rebellion.

SPOONING PASSED AS O. K. BY N. Y. SHERIFF IN RULING

New York, Feb. 28.—Spooning by young couples atop Fifth Ave. buses was officially recognized as a legitimate outdoor sport.

Sheriff David H. Knott, in a statement made in reply to an anonymous correspondent who complained of the practice, declared that it seemed to him that "a man must be either a crabbed old bachelor or one who has been disappointed in love who will seek to invoke official aid in putting an end to a heritage of nature as old as the world."

"Certainly there is nothing clandestine in spooning atop a bus," he added. "My advice to men who cannot stand the sight of the loving meeting in minds and eyes, and in some cases lips, on a Fifth Ave. bus is that they ride in the subway. A trip or two in the rush hours there ought to cure them. In the subway men and women, boy and girls, are thrown together indiscriminately, and even without the formality of an introduction or acquaintance they are compelled to occupy about the same proximity to each other that the lovers do on buses, sometimes more. The difference is that in the subway this attention is forced upon them, and instead of billing and cooing one hears bickering and cussing."

"Let the spooners spoon. They always did; they always will. Why try to awaken them from love's young dream? I want to state that I must refuse to designate deputies to stop what you call a nuisance. This statement by your report represents officially, I think, a conclusion—a state of mind."

ITALIAN BUDGET REDUCED

BEGIN INVESTIGATION OF TRAIN WRECK WHICH COST MORE THAN THIRTY LIVES

LIST OF DEAD MAY APPROACH NEARLY FIFTY

Known Killed Now Placed at 38, Others Believed Buried.

NO BLAME PLACED

Towerman Gives Vivid Description of the Fatal Smash.

Porter, Ind., Feb. 28.—Forty two known dead at noon marked the tragic toll of the New York Central-Michigan Central rail horror here. It seems certain that the death list would be swelled as rescue parties continued their search under the grim monument of wreckage, which marks the scene of last night's crash of the Michigan Central "Canadian" and the New York Central "Interstate Limited."

Thirty six of the bodies were in the improvised morgue at Chesterton, a mile from here and three in Michigan City, Ind., when just before noon, three other bodies were found. At this hour the number of injured was placed at close to one hundred. It was considered remarkable that those of the injured who did not die within an hour or two were but slightly hurt.

L. W. Keeler, superintendent of schools at Michigan City, Ind., listed among the dead in an early casualty list, was not even injured in the crash.

The following statement was given out by the general superintendent of the New York Central: "It seems certain that the Michigan Central train had taken the derail and that the engine miraculously jumped back on the track again just as the New York Central train crashed into it. Officials from Chicago and New York are en route here. It will be a joint investigation and a thorough one. It is impossible to place the blame now. Calling a man guilty of such a thing means calling him guilty of murder."

Towerman Tells Story

In a statement to the International News Service, Joseph Cook, towerman in the tower from which signals were given to control the fatal crossing declared today that the New York Central train had the right of way and that the block was set to stop the Michigan Central flyer. In vivid fashion he described how the crash occurred.

"Under normal conditions," he explained, "the blocks are set against all trains. The train hitting the buzzer first then is given the right of way. That is, the block which is set against them is released and the train is permitted to go on."

"That is exactly what happened when the buzzer sounded last night. It showed that the New York Central train was the first to hit the buzzer by almost a full minute ahead of the Michigan Central flyer."

"I released the block which permitted the New York Central train to go through. Just as the train hit the crossing I saw the Michigan Central train coming around the curve at sixty miles an hour. I saw right away what was going to happen and thought the tower would also be demolished. I called to Charlie Whitehead, the telegraph operator with me and we made for the steps which lead to the ground."

"The Michigan Central train by this time had hit the derail which clearly showed that the block had been set against it and plowed over the ties and tracks, tearing them up as it went across the New York Central right of way. When the third coach of the Michigan Central train had passed over the New York Central right of way, the New York Central train cut through it. Its locomotive toppled over and the coaches of both trains scattered in all directions."

"I cannot help but feel that the Michigan Central engineer was asleep for there are two blocks that are visible almost a mile and a half before he reaches the crossing."

BRITISH POLICEMEN RETURN FIRE OF IRISH IN AMBUSH

Two Sinn Feiners Shot Dead in Battle Monday.

London, Feb. 28.—Two Sinn Feiners were wounded when a detachment of fifteen British policemen was ambushed near Mullingar, Ireland, this morning. There were fifty men in the attacking party. They fired upon the police from the roadside and the latter returned the fire wounding two of the republicans.

Advices from Dublin this afternoon said the police suffered no casualties.

SENATE IS URGED BY FORD TO HASTEN ELECTION CONTEST

Detroit, Feb. 28.—A telegram urging the senate elections committee to set a date for taking of the balance of testimony in the Newberry-Ford election contest and asking that further witnesses be called, was sent last night by Henry Ford to Senator S. P. Pencer, chairman of the elections committee. The telegram was as follows:

"May I again respectfully urge that your committee name a date for taking the balance of the testimony in the main case of Newberry-Ford election contest, and grant the subpoenas for the witnesses, of whom a list was furnished you several weeks ago. I am well aware that senators have been very busy, but for more than a year we have been urging this, and what business is more important than to ascertain whether a seat in the senate has been acquired by the expenditure of vast sums of money, and incidentally the lawful claimant kept out of it."

"I again urge that the pendency of the criminal case in the U. S. supreme court cannot and should not defer action by the senate, because manifestly, any decision by the court would be binding either upon the senate or upon the claimant. That case depends upon the technicalities of criminal law, which cannot dispose of or determine the great fundamental principle involved in my contest."

Announcement that the telegram had been sent was made by Alfred Lucking, Mr. Ford's counsel.

RESCUERS WORK FEVERISHLY TO FREE INJURED

Smashup Occurs early Sunday Evening at Porter, Indiana.

RUNS PAST SIGNAL

Michigan Central Flyer Cut in Two at Diamond Crossing.

Porter, Ind., Feb. 28.—With twenty eight bodies lying in the morgue at Chesterton, Ind., and rescue parties working frantically in the tangled debris to recover the bodies of others who lost their lives in the wreck here last night, the coroner's inquest got under way early today for a thorough probe of one of the most gruesome disasters in railroad history. Best available estimates early this morning placed the total number of dead at least thirty five. Twenty or more persons received injuries.

The wreck occurred when a New York Central flyer crashed into the Canadian limited of the Michigan Central road. The Canadian limited left Chicago at 6 o'clock last night. The New York Central train known as the interstate limited, was bound for Chicago from Boston. The crash occurred about 6:30 o'clock last night.

A thorough investigation of the catastrophe was launched by officials of both roads to determine responsibility. The towerman at the intersection of the two roads claim that the Michigan Central train ran past two block signals that had been set against it.

Plows Through Coach

There is a diamond intersection of the two roads here. The Michigan Central flyer had half way, shot over the intersecting tracks when the New York Central limited plowed through a wooden day coach of the Canadian limited, smashing it to kindling wood and hurling the bodies of the killed and maimed on both sides of the right of way.

The New York Central locomotive after striking the other train which is said to have been traveling at a sixty miles an hour clip left the rails and toppled over. The fireman was scalded to death and the engineer died soon after being taken from the wrecked and burning cab of his engine.

A majority of the victims were residents of Michigan City. Porter has no physician and few residents. Those available rushed to the scene with axes, picks and shovels and started preliminary rescue work, together with passengers from the two trains who escaped injury.

The crash was heard for miles and soon there began pouring from the surrounding countryside scores of farmers and their wives and daughters also there came two physicians from Chesterton, a mile away.

While women tore up their skirts to make bandages for the injured then helped them to the homes of residents, where they were put to bed, the bodies were removed first to the town hall here and then to the undertaking rooms in Chesterton where an improvised morgue was set up. The bodies were placed on the floor, on table tops and in chairs while six embalmers worked feverishly to prepare them for inquest today. Some were mutilated as to render identification almost impossible. Four relief trains arrived here during the night from Chicago, Elkhart and Michigan City.

Dramatic Incidents

The scene of desolation and death which followed the crash was filled with numerous dramatic incidents. There was father DeVillie, chaplain in the late war, who crawled amid the smoking debris to administer the last sacraments to the dying.

There was little 9 year old Pearl Cavanaugh whose lifeless body was dug from the wreckage and who held in her tiny hand a bag of candy, apparently just purchased when the crash came. Another strange freak of the wreck was a woman, apparently in her thirties, who was found with her clothing torn completely from her body.

The work of rescue was begun by lantern light while the Porter volunteer fire department played feeble gleams of water on the burning wreckage. The whole scene was illuminated by the red glare from the open fire boxes of the locomotives.

The air was filled with shrieks and screams from the injured and the dying many of whom were pinned beneath the wreckage. Train-men, passengers and townspeople armed with axes and picks climbed over the wreckage, chopping away timbers and dragging the injured out to safety. Between 18 and 20 cars were strewn along the right of way, many at crazy angles, while two were reduced to kindling wood.

200 Laborers At Work
Later in the night two cranes and 200 laborers toiled in the blue glare of arc lights in an effort to bring order out of chaos. Special agents of the two roads parolled the scene of the wreck to prevent possible looting of the dead. The ground for a wide area and even the telegraph wires were covered with splinters and fine bits of glass wood, plus clothing torn from the victims.

The trucks were torn from the locomotive of the New York Central train and thrown high into the air. The front was crushed in. One of the pullman sleepers of the Canadian Limited bound for Toronto carried 14 passengers and the other for Montreal carried 18. With the exception of bruises and slight cuts none of the occupants were hurt. The two Canadian parlor cars, one bound for Detroit and the other for Grand Rapids also came out unscathed.

Among the women on the New York Central train was Frances Kennedy, vaudeville star. She was not injured and aided in the care of the injured.

The list of dead shows the names of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Van Riper, of Michigan City. Mr. Van Riper had been an engineer on the Michigan Central for an even fifty years and drove his last engine two days ago, having been retired from active duty on a pension. He and his wife had been to Chicago to celebrate the occasion.

OBSERVERS IN BABY BLIMPS TO WATCH FOR FOREST FIRES
Los Angeles, February 28.—The practicability of employing a small dirigible balloon in aerial forest patrol work is being thoroughly investigated by the forestry service in Washington and it is regarded as possible that one or two of the baby blimps will be added to the air patrol service in the Angeles, Cleveland and Santa Barbara reserves. Many airplanes are now engaged in this fire prevention service.

Major E. W. Kelley, of the Washington office, has been in Los Angeles conferring with manufacturers of the blimps and with Shirley Allen, supervisor of the Angeles reserve.

Major Kelley said his superiors in Washington had been in correspondence with the manufacturers and with forestry officials on the Pacific coast as to the services a blimp could give in fire protection work in the national forests.

The visitor said that many arguments in favor of a blimp had been advanced. One is that a blimp carrying passengers could convey fire fighting ranges to segregated mountain canyons to fight fire which otherwise could not be reached until after many hours of climbing.

Another is that the gas bag can be held stationary in the vicinity of a fire. They could also be used in transporting supplies such as food, and water.

QUAKER CLOTHES LONDON STYLES FOR WOMEN NOW

London, Feb. 28.—Women are to adopt Quaker-like clothes this spring.

No frills, or furbelows, no panniers or bustles. No ornate trimmings are to be accepted by fashionable women during the forthcoming season.

Women refuse to comply with any attempt to introduce elaborate styles," said the manager of the London House of Lucille's. The lines of the silhouette will be absolutely slim and the skirt which will probably be longer, will be tightened at the hem.

"The only fullness noticeable in the dresses we have already made for wear in the south of France appears slightly above the knees in the form of a lace flounce or a sheath-like overskirt. Sleeves are to be shorter and the popularity for embroidery is dying fast.

The new Spring hats show the same severe tendencies. Even the ostrich feather that curled happily round the crown of a hat a season ago droops from the brim and winds itself around the wearer's neck like a boa constrictor. Other hats seen at a dress parade tilted decidedly above the right ear and most of them have something unusual in the form of a ribbon or garland that droops upon the shoulder.

Cathedral Rock ranch is considered one of the finest in this section of the Rocky Mountain region and includes many pedigreed Percheron and Belgian horses, in addition to a large herd of Hereford cattle.

Governor Shoup acquired the ranch several years ago and has spent large sums of money in making it modern in every respect.

SEN. PENCE SUPPORTS AUTO CLUB STAND ON MOTOR LICENSES

G. G. O. Pence, State Senator from the Fifth and Sixth Districts, has expressed his support of the action of the Greene County Automobile Club against the passage of the bill providing for the licensing of motor vehicle operators in a letter received by secretary F. J. Slackford of the Chamber of Commerce, acting Secretary of the Automobile organization.

The automobile club at a small meeting some time ago was unanimous in expressing opposition to the bill, which would require that everyone driving an automobile or tractor, would have to pay a license fee and above the regular license fee.

This in some families, would mean that every member who drove the car would have to pay $2 for a license. The action of the small meeting in opposing the bill was endorsed by the large meeting last week. State Senator Pence and Representative M. A. Broadstone were notified of the action of the club and asked to vote against the measure. The letter from Senator Pence follows.

"My Dear Mr. Slackford: I am in receipt of a letter, in which you earnestly urge me to oppose the passage of the bill which provides for the examination and licensing of motor vehicle operators.

"I have had some letters relative to this bill both pro and con, but for myself, I see no necessity in such legislation. In fact I feel it would work a hardship on most motor owners and operators. I assure you that I will do all in my power to defeat same.

Respectfully Yours,

G. G. Pence."

FEBRUARY RECORD MONTH IN CELLS

The Hotel de Bastille had a record month for roomers during February, according to the police records kept by Chief M. E. Graham.

The desk register shows that during the short month, 56 "sleepers" were enrolled on the slate, spending the night behind the bars at headquarters rather than face the cold winds without.

This record exceeds that of February when only 44 applied for permission to spend the night in the city cell block. In each month, 20 arrests were made by the officers.

CITY TEAMS IN NEXT CHAMP TILT TONIGHT

The Shamrocks and the Athletics will come together at the Rink Monday night in the second stanza of the city championship series.

When the curtain raises on the second tilt, it will find the Shamrocks already holding on to one end of the city championship bunting, having won the first game of the series last Monday.

In order to make a fight for the rag, the colored team will have to come back strong Monday night, as the issue will be decided in two out of three games, and should the green and white lads annex another win, the fracas will be over. The game last week was fast and cleanly played, and from the score indicates that the second contest will be a nip and tuck affair.

The Nationals and Regels furnish a preliminary.

Neighbors told the police the house was last seen disappearing on Wentworth avenue on the wagons of a house-moving company. Van Wiehe blames an old feud with a house mover for the disappearance.

LAST QUARANTINE AT JAMESTOWN IS LIFTED SATURDAY

With lifting of the quarantine ban on the home of W. F. Harper, Jamestown, druggist, it is believed that the last case of smallpox in that village has been stamped out.

It was believed several weeks ago that the epidemic of small pox that started in Jamestown had been halted, but the disease spread to the Harper home after that, and the quarantine was in force until Saturday, when it was lifted.

JAPAN HAS EYES ON PHILIPPINES

Marion, Feb. 28.—"Japan has her eyes on the Philippines, and is not likely to turn away from the independence of the Philippines is just a clever and smooth piece of Japanese propaganda that eclipses any German propaganda during or since the war."

That declaration was made here today by Dr. G. H. Myers, of Chicago, national representative of the Methodist board of ministers who has just returned from a year's tour of the orient. Touching on the Japanese atrocities in Korea, Dr. Myers said that "if all the atrocities committed by Germany in Belgium and France and all those committed by the Turks in Armenia were put together they would not equal what Japan has done or is doing in Korea, and yet her power is so complete that very little of this ever reaches the ears of the so-called civilized world."

WILLIE DALTON TO BE INDICTED ON CHARGE OF LARCENY

Young Chicago Bank Robber to Feel Weight Of Law.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Willie Dalton, 16 year old bank clerk and $772,000 bond thief, is expected to be indicted today for his sensational crime which ended in his capture Saturday at Heyworth, Ills. He will be arraigned this afternoon.

Dalton, guarded by two detectives and his loot—minus a $500 bond sold to buy an automobile—came back home yesterday. While he was being brought back from Bloomington, Ills., where he was taken from Heyworth, state's attorney Crowe and Assistant's were busy preparing their case against the youth whose robbery was the largest in Chicago's history. Upon his arrival at the detective bureau, Dalton was booked on a charge of larceny. He is being held in an isolated cell at the detention home.

The immunity offer of officials of the Northern Trust company out of whose offices Dalton walked last Thursday noon carrying his enormous loot, will not prevent Dalton's rigorous prosecution, it was announced today. Both State's Attorney Crowe and John S. Lord, attorney for Lloyd's the bonding agency which paid a $50,000 reward Saturday night for Dalton's capture, declared that the fact must be punished to the full extent of the law. It is expected that he will be tried and sentenced early this week, within seven days of the time he committed his theft.

As for Willie, he is ready to take his medicine. He does not expect or want leniency, he declares, despite his mother's plea that he be paroled to her.

SPEAKING OF IMMIGRATION

IF A DENSE POPULATION IS NECESSARY TO "BUILD UP" OUR NATIONAL PROSPERITY—

THEN LET'S HAVE NATIONAL POVERTY AND 160 ACRES TO EACH FAMILY AND SEND WHAT WE CAN'T EAT TO THE STARVING EUROPEANS.

THE CRUCIAL TIME.

The country's reached an evil pass, and there is worse to follow; this readjustment stuff, alas, is pretty hard to swallow. So speak the jays, in doleful bands, who grunt and grumble daily; throughout their lives they wring their hands, and murmur, "Willow-wally!" But wise men say that bitter times are just what we are needing; we're learning now to prize the dimes we used to blow unheeding. We used to spend our coin in haste, for all the junk they'd dish us; we're learning now that wanton waste is foolish, vain and vicious. We had to learn that much of truth, and heal the spendthrift canker, and take our earnings to the booth where dwells the village banker; we had to learn this sort of hope of stable times returning. We're getting down again to tacks, we cease our spendthrift ravings, and you may see us making tracks to salt away our savings. When we are seedy, sick and sore, it takes strong dope to cure us; and now Good Health is at the door, the wise old lads assure us. The medicine we have to take may seem a trifle bitter, but what's the diff if it will make each gent a healthy critter?

there to work out the kinks and the running. Mr. Bloom pins his faith on Pat Moran's athletes for the coming season. More are to follow next week, and with the departure of each outfit, roscate promises of the future are seriously prophecied by their particular favorites up here where winter still reigns.

The departure of the teams for the spring training camps, is causing the stove league devotees, to make their annual pre-seasonal prophecies. Raymond Goodin, porter at the Coates barber shop, who startled fans with his uncanny prophecies of the World Series results last fall, is dusting off his ouiga board for this season's work.

Goodin, who is one of the famous twins, and known as the tenor singing porter, is already announcing the winners in each league. The Cincinnati Reds, 1919 National League winners, are going to cop the rag in that outfit again this season, according to this prophet, who believes that Manager Pat Moran can again steer his charges to first place. For an American League winner he picks the New York Yankees, who lay claim to the famous "Babe" Ruth.

James M. Canaday, former Chief of Police, and another ardent baseball bug, makes a like selection, which coincidence may really be a sign that it is to come true. He says Cincinnati will win the National League, and New York will come out on top of the alster league scrap. Charles F. Greenleaf, prominent man-about-town and first-nighter, who this year, as well as formerly held a seat to the opening game in Cincinnati, makes a different prediction. He says that it will be a New York-New York affair this year, with the Giants and Yankees winning in their respective leagues.

Probate Judge J. Carl Marshall, who when not meting out justice from the bench, is another ardent baseball fan, does not make a prediction for the American league championship and, his National League prediction covers a lot of ground. Judge Marshall's choice in the National lies between Cincinnati, New York and Brooklyn, last years winners, but he is not interested enough in the American League to pick a winner.

Karl Bloom, ranks himself among those loyal fans, who still think the Cincinnati Reds are in the running. Mr. Bloom pins his faith on Pat Moran's athletes for the National League rag and he assumes that the Chicago White Sox will come back in the American, which will make it a repetition of the 1919 series if this prophecy comes true.

Dan A. Smith, veteran baseball bug and former player himself, who has hurled many a game, believes that our old friend Jawn McGraw is due for a come-back after the way Brooklyn crowded him out last season, and that the Giants will win the pennant in the older league easily. For a choice in the American he picked the Cleveland Indians, present Worlds Champions, and as a matter of fact was the only fan among six interviewed who believes the Champs will come back this season. Mr. Smith holds that any team that has the nerve to comeback after such a set-back as the Indians received with the death of Chapman last year, has the kind of stuff of which champions are made.

And thus the annual spring prophecies are being spoken now. Next fall, they will either have died in the memory of their creators, or will be good cause for the annual chorus of "I told you so!"

COLUMBUS CROWD CANCEL'S CONTEST

Arrangements for what was expected to be the biggest high school basketball game of the season were knocked in the head by the cancellation of the game booked here with Central High Saturday night by the East High quintet of Columbus.

Fans were looking forward with much interest to the pastime and many were disappointed at the failure of the Columbus quintet to be on hand. It is believed by local officials, that East High, which has been defeated by Greenfield High, was avoiding a similar occurrence at the hands of the locals in cancelling the game.

CONFER'S CENTRAL HIGH QUINTET ALL SET FOR BIG TOURNEY

Coach Harold Confer and his central High School basketballers will depart Thursday afternoon for Delaware where they will participate in the Southern Division rounds of the annual state basketball tournament held at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Eight men will make the trip, including the five regulars and three substitutes. Besides the athletes it is expected that a number of fans and rooters will also accompany the team to the college town to add little cheer to the playing of the locals. Principal Harper Pendry announced today that there would be no rally and parade such as was given the team as a send off last year.

Fans who have been hoping that some time or later the blue and white quintet will shake off the old jinx that seems to bother them in the annual state tournament, are hoping their dreams will come true this year. In the years that the local teams have been entered, they have sent some good teams to Delaware, but there, they have each failed miserably in an attempt to play even as well as their previous showing justified. There is no denying that the team this year is among the top-notchers, and if the lads keep their heads where they belong, which is on the top of their necks, they should make an impression at least.

BASEBALL BUGS ARE BURSTING OUT WITH OCCULT PROPHECIES

BEAUTY CHATS

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

One of the questions that is frequently asked me concerns the best method of removing superfluous hair from the face. My answer must always be the same. There is only one permanent way of taking hair from the face, and that is by the electric needle method. Now it is very difficult to tell very much about this method, because its price and results vary so in different cities.

satisfactory way is what is called the "multiple needle process." This means that several needles are inserted where the hairs grow and then a tiny shock of electricity is sent into them, not enough to hurt but only enough to kill the hairs.

This is quicker than the single needle process. It takes off more hairs in the same length of time and only about 10 per cent of them come back. In the single needle process, about 25 per cent come back. This is due to the presence of another hair in the follicle, which grows after the first has been killed.

Charges for these treatments vary from about $1 to $5 an hour any anywhere from 10 to 50 or more hairs can be killed in an hour's treatment. If you cannot reach an electric needle specialist the best thing you can do is to bleach the place where the hairs grow by using a mixture of equal parts of peroxide and household ammonia. This will make the light growth of hair invisible and will discourage a new growth.

The prominent hairs can be pulled out with tweezers. New hairs may grow in but they can be pulled out again and the process is perfectly harmless. These little tweezers can be purchased in any drug or department store. Touch these places where the hairs come out with a little peroxide.

Blue Eyes.—If your hair was once thick but the front part is now all short ends, I suspect that you have been roughing it or wearing false hair, or else curling the front. If you have been doing any of these things stop at once and give your hair a chance to come in again. meantime you might use a tonic on it.

THE SENATE VOTES TO END THE "SQUIRT" IN THE GRAPE FRUIT.

Even senatorial dignity is not proof against a resilient and agile grape fruit and even senatorial eyes have been the victim of the acid stream which often flies at a tangent from the "citrus mastodonis."

Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, acted as savior of the breakfast table. Primarily the Arizona senator was interested in obtaining the money so that the Southwestern deserts might blossom with fig and date trees. Pages under his direction presented to each senator samples of what the West can do in the way of raising figs heretofore native of Smyrna and date indigenous to Arabia, until each senatorial jaw swung in synchrony to the measured sentences of the speaker, and the manager of the Senate restaurant reported a considerable falling off in patronage.

But although the senators ate they showed no enthusiasm for the infant Arizona industry until Senator Ashurst reached his climax and informed the Senate he wished to have the $10,000 added to an existing appropriation of $51,600 to "investigate the psychology of crop plants and for testing and breeding varieties thereof," because the government already had been able to change the recalcitrant grape fruit from a geyser to a leak and hoped soon to eliminate the vexatious overflow altogether.

"Tangerines have been crossed with grape fruit in this psychological work of the government," Senator Ashurst said. "Let me read what the report of the Bureau of Markets says: 'The pulp of the resultant cross is so tender that it can be removed with a spoon without cutting away the segments, and, moreover, there is little or no tendency of the juice to squirt when the spoon is inserted.'"

The national pocketbook then was unloosened to the tune of $10,000.

LENINE AND TROTSKY STILL HOLDING THE WORLD BY THE THROAT.

Japan will be no party to any project of universal disarmament, and from the moment that one great power declines to disarm the others cannot afford to do so. Under the circumstances the contemplated international congress for disarmament, which it is said that the new President of the United States proposes to summon at an early date after his inauguration, seems doomed beforehand to failure.

If Japan cannot disarm it is not because she entertains any imperialistic ambitions of conquest. Neither will her objection to disarmament be due to those hostile designs which so many in America seem to believe she harbors against the United States. If Japan cannot disarm it is because of vital considerations of defense.

All her interests on the mainland of Asia, nay, her very own existence within the borders of her island empire, are gravely menaced by the Bolshevik peril. There is a growing conviction in Japan, and also in Europe, that as Bolshevik rule fails in European Russia, mainly on economic grounds, it will seek refuge in Siberia, where the soil is more fertile to such abnormal forms of government and where the resources of the country are immeasurably greater. It is already on the cards that Lenine, Trotsky and their Soviet junta may ere long transfer themselves and their headquarters from Moscow to central or even Far Eastern Siberia; and once established there they will become a far greater peril to Japan than was ever Russia in the days of the czars.

What Japan has to fear is an all-Red Siberia. She cannot afford to have the Bolsheviks established at Vladivostok or elsewhere within easy reach of the Japanese coasts, for it would facilitate that sinister propaganda which Lenine and Trotsky employ as a sort of poison-gas preparation for armed attack. And it must be confessed that with the increasing modernism of the Japanese people and the remarkable falling off of their reverence for their sovereign dynasty and of their belief in the religious faiths of their forefathers, the masses offer a particularly fertile field for any crazy propaganda, be it socialism, anarchy or the most extreme form of bolshevism. With an all-Red Siberia, Japan would find it difficult to hold her possessions on the mainland, nay, her very national existence would be at stake. That is why she cannot afford to disarm.

THREE CHEERS FOR THE PATRIOTIC FARMERS OF AMERICA.

The all-American committee for famine relief in China has announced acceptance of the tentative offer of 5,000,000 bushels of corn made by American farmers for the relief of the famine sufferers. The committee stipulated that the grain, in order to accomplish the purpose intended, should arrive in China by the middle of May.

Plans were recently outlined to Secretary of the Navy Daniels for providing a "mercy fleet" to carry to China the grain donated by American farmers for the millions of starving Chinese in the famine-stricken districts. The committee which presented the plan to the secretary in Washington pointed out that railroad employes had volunteered to haul the grain to the Pacific coast from the various contributing areas.

Mr. Daniels told the committee he was sure there would be no difficulty in securing enough naval reserves to volunteer for the trip across the Pacific in shipping board vessels the understanding being the men would be provided with transportation, quarters and food by the navy.

NEW ANTISEPTIC SUCCESS IN CASE OF ANTHRAX CURES

Chicago, Feb. 28.—An antiseptic preparation made from proflavine and acriflavine dyes is being used successfully under the supervision of the city Health Department here in an anthrax case.

Severe cases of anthrax the bacterial disease spread by the hair of animals, have almost invariably proved fatal. Recently the new preparation was first tried on Joseph Fritz an anthrax victim with a large malignant pustule on his cheek. Daily subcutaneous injections were made around the edge of the pustule.

Within forty-eight hours the effect of the preparation was apparent according to Dr. Martin Schupman a school health officer treating the case. The disease ceased spreading and new flesh began to replace that which was destroyed by the anthrax germs.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

Newspaper Advertising Starts the Wheels

In November, business had a bluish cast. The financial waters were troubled.

Corn and wheat and cotton were tumbling—business was halting and hesitating.

Everywhere you heard the croakers say, "People are not buying."

Then the retailers took the cold plunge. They began to readjust prices and offer inducements.

And they advertised the fact—advertised it in the newspapers of their home cities. They kept at it—and kept at it.

After a bit, buying began to wake up—slowly at first, then in greater volume.

Progressive merchants who know newspaper advertising pulls progressively went at it harder.

Business grew better and better, and by the last of December many merchants were reporting record-breaking sales, and, taking the country as a whole, business was good.

Newspaper advertising saved the day and made it possible for the merchants to clear their shelves and recorder from the manufacturer—thus loosening the clogged stream of commerce and setting the factory wheels in motion.

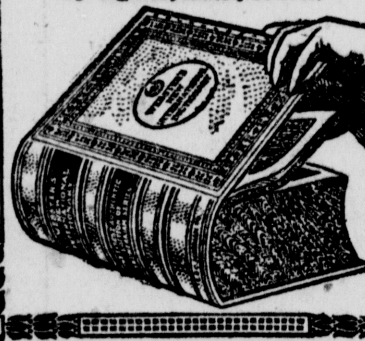

Newspaper advertising is the greatest single business force on this continent today.

Mrs. WAGNER of PALM BEACH

Tells Girls How She Found Relief From Pain

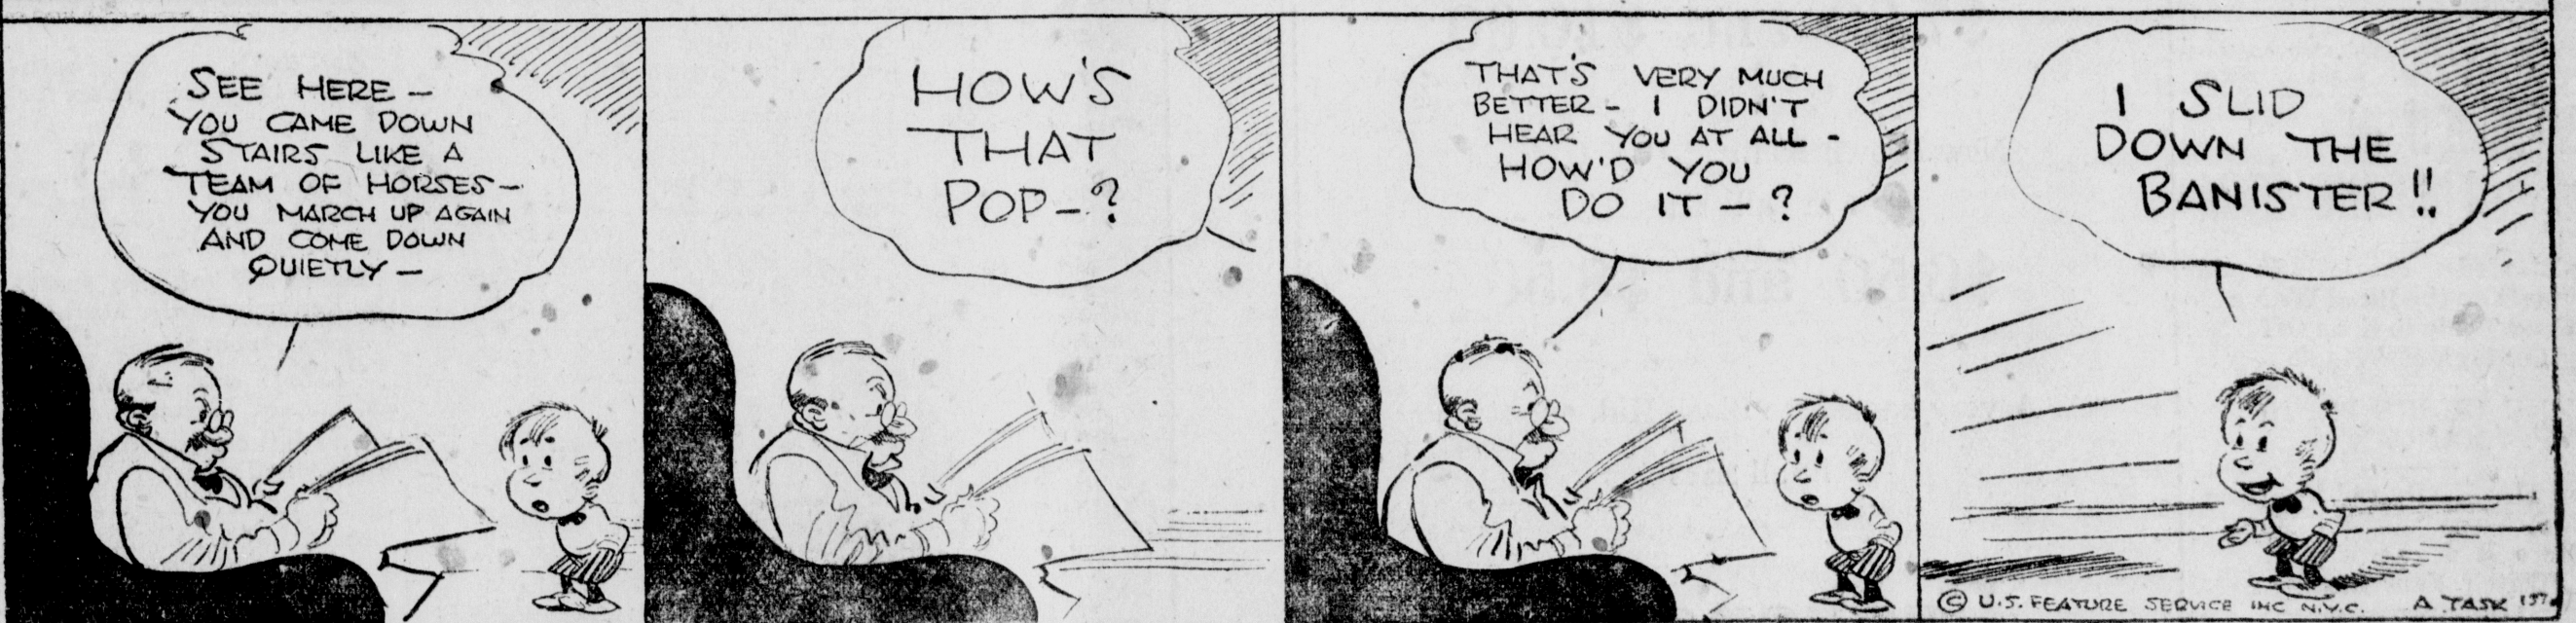

West Palm Beach, Fla.—"When I was 19 years old I was irregular and I had such terrible cramps it felt like a knife going through me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I was cured. After I was married I had the same trouble caused by the added work of farming and heavy washings so I told my husband to get six bottles of the Vegetable Compound and by taking it regularly my troubles ceased and now I never have a pain or ache, and am regular. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and think every young girl should take it. You can publish this letter and it may be the means of helping some other girl or woman." —Mrs. MARY M. WAGNER, Box 759, West Palm Beach, Florida.

While no woman is entirely free from periodic suffering it does not seem to be the plan of nature that woman should suffer so severely and when pain exists something is wrong which should be set right. Every girl who suffers from monthly cramps should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

The Markets

Traders have been debating the probability of a pre-inauguration boomlet, largely of a sentimental character. At times in the past stocks have reflected the hopeful expectation with which the advent of a new administration was regarded. The attitude of Harding and his cabinet toward business is well-known and has tended to establish confidence. It has been at least partially discounted. Current industrial depression will probably suppress any exuberance that might otherwise manifest itself.

Conditions in the stock market have made slow improvement without attracting speculation. The list has not yet begun to discount a pronounced recovery in business, disappointing those who hoped for a return of normal business this spring. The monetary situation has changed but little. The March 1 payments may bring some tightening. The new financial year will begin to take more definite shape within another month.

Grain

Clearances of wheat and wheat flour this season exceed 30,000,000 bushels compared with less than 200,000,000 last year. The visible supply is about 40 per cent normal, taking an average for the past several weeks. When Argentina disposes of her surplus, European buyers will re-enter the American market in force. It is believed, diminishing the already meagre supplies. Other factors tending to uphold prices are the likelihood of a "crop scare," tariff negotiations, possibility of reduced acreage this spring, and the traditional movement of prices upward at this time of year. Opposed to them are slow and will export demand and general conditions. Export demand has aided corn. Spring will soon make dirt country roads well-nigh impassable and spring work will further reduce offerings.

Livestock

Industrial depression is still restricting meat consumption, especially beef and mutton. Retail buyers are paying high prices, partly owing to the fact that meat pays a relatively higher percentage of total cost than in the past now that hides and wool are flat and other by-products have declined greatly in price. The market is very sensitive to volume of receipts. Diminution of receipts invariably tends to stabilize prices and sometimes forces them higher, but no radical or long sustained improvement is in prospect. A rise sometimes stimulates loading and sometimes by infusing confidence restricts it. The supply of corned cattle is adequate for immediate needs and moderation is desirable in marketing. Stocker trade probably has passed its point of extreme depression and interest should revive. Hog supply is ample, but the market remains comparatively strong. Sheep and lambs have touched the lowest points in five years with slight probability of relief.

Cotton

Depression still retains its grip upon the cotton market and the likelihood of a revival in the near future is not great. Mixed reports come from the goods trade, but a considerable proportion of them are depressing. Sterling stocks, grain, and other marketable goods upon which cotton depends for assurance betray hesitancy. The trend has been mainly downward, although subjects to temporary reversal, and bottom may not yet have been touched. Traders recognize, however, that stocks of merchandise are diminishing and that public demand, long held in check will one day reassert itself.

Wool

Progress of emergency tariff legislation and the practical certainty that wool will figure in the permanent revision upward expected during the next session have created a more favorable sentiment in the wool market than could otherwise have been in the face of stocks far beyond all immediate demands and a new clip coming on. Many mills are running that were closed a month ago and are buying steadily, although not in large volume. Americans have bought foreign wool heavily to bring in before the tariff laws makes importation unprofitable.

Metals

The iron and steel industry continues much depressed. Blast furnaces

KEEP BLOOD IN FIGHTING TRIM

Thin-Blooded People Should Strengthen the Blood With a Good Tonic to Keep Off Contagious Disease

TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN

If You Tire Easily and Feel Run Down, Your Blood Needs More Red Corpuscles. Watch Your Blood Condition Now

It is thin-blooded, anemic people that disease strikes first. If any of the disease germs that so often become epidemic catch you in a run-down condition, they are able to take hold—and the first thing you know you are ill. But if you are in good condition, your blood vigorous, rich and red, your system is able to throw off the effects of germs that are so prevalent when an epidemic breaks out.

Make up your mind to this fact—you are either well or you are not well. And the common-sense thing to do is to be on the safe side. If you are in doubt, take that wonderful blood tonic, Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It makes blood rich and red. It increases the number of red corpuscles, and your system is better able to fight the ravages of epidemics.

Watch your children. If they are pale and wan and thin-blooded, give them Gude's Pepto-Mangan. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form and is sold by druggists everywhere. The liquid and tablets have exactly the same medicinal value. Buy whichever you prefer, and be sure it is genuine "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." The name "Gude's" is on the package.

are not accumulating stocks against a rise. Buying is hand-to-mouth. How long the steel corporation can maintain present prices is a question.

Agriculture

After the war, when prices kept on rising a campaign began to organize farmers' cooperative selling associations for trade with consumers' buying associations. The plan struck a popular chord, inasmuch as it proposed to eliminate all middlemen and increase the price to the producer while at the same time it reduced the price to the consumer. Considerable oratory and reams of paper were expended on the project, yet to date very little has been accomplished. The farmers have formed cooperative selling associations, but the consumer has neglected to do his part. The movement languishes and its future is doubtful. If it did not thrive when times were most propitious for its success, when prices were unduly high and flagrant examples of profiteering fresh in mind, assuredly it could not thrive when middlemen and speculators were driven to sacrifice their stocks in order to obtain ready cash.

The farmers' cooperative movement, as distinguished from the inter-cooperative movement has made steady progress. Now a special committee of the American Farm Bureau Association comes forward with a project for the creation of a National Sales Agency to market the farmers' grain. Local elevators or grain growers, associations would contract with this agency to handle their grain either on a sales contract or pooling contract basis. The agency itself would own terminal facilities, warehouses and the machinery to finance exports. The agency would furnish information to growers.

The committee's plan is ambitious. Its worst fault is, perhaps, that it calls for the creation or purchase of distributing facilities national and international in scope and complete in every detail and their administration by a corps of experts whom only years of service can give the requisite experience. Barring these elevators and local grain associations it incorporates no established system, but seeks to create even the foundations upon which it is to stand. For the successful operation of so gigantic a machine a high degree of action is required and a concentration of financial power of which even the great farm organizations acting in concert might not be capable. Whether the plan remains a plan merely and serves as a basis for other plans or whether it is put to test depends in no small part upon the attitude of the individual member of the farm bureau.

The March 1 settlements are at hand and will involve the liquidation of debts and payment of loans running far into the millions. The banks are pressing many borrowers for payment against the day when these same borrowers will apply for further loans to finance spring planting. Liquidation in preparation for the March 1 settlements may be less than was anticipated. Many farmers have shipped grain or livestock and obtained the ready cash with which to meet their obligations. Farmers are cautioned against liquidating too rapidly and thereby demoralizing the market. The livestock market especially is sensitive and receipts govern the fluctuation of prices. Moderation is good in marketing, as in all things.

MASTODONS AFTER DRINK PERISHED IN ILLINOIS BOG

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Once upon a time, or 107,391 years ago this Winter, to be exact—a cute little baby mastodon and its fond mamma went down from Chicago to Minooka, Ill. to get a drink.

Winters were cold in these parts then and practically all the water was frozen over. But down Minooka way there was a spring that bubbled despite the cold.

That Minooka spring was to the mastodon what Cuba is to the thirsty Chicagoan today.

Well, the lady mastodon and her offspring got out on the ice and started to drink and the ice cracked and the poor mastodon went crash right through and were drowned.

And when summer came the ice

PLACE IN POLITICAL SUN WILL BE TAKEN BY STATE OF OHIO

Washington, Feb. 28.—When Warren Gamaliel Harding becomes president Friday he will restore his native state of Ohio to a place of political prestige and power which it has not enjoyed since the days of William McKinley and Marcus A. Hanna.

William H. Taft was an Ohio president, but outside the White House there was hardly a single Ohioan conspicuous in the government service during his administration. There was no Ohio man in the Taft cabinet and comparatively few in subordinate executive positions.

Harding has appointed Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus to be his attorney general. George B. Christian of Marion is to be his secretary. A number of Ohio Republicans are slated for responsible and lucrative positions in the governmental departments at Washington.

In the golden era of Ohio Republicanism of 20 odd years ago, when McKinley was president, the Buckeye state had gained a proud pre-eminence which it had never before achieved and has not since.

While the Harding administration is expected to be liberal in its recognition and reward of Ohio Republicans, Buckeye state job seekers will not be permitted to "hog" all the desirable places in the government service.

Carmi A. Thompson, Howard D. Mannington, William E. Halley and Charles E. Hard are the type of Buckeye Republicans most likely to be found in responsible executive places at Washington during the Harding administration.

MRS. MARTHA TURNER DIES IN DAYTON

Mrs. Martha Turner, 70, wife of John C. Turner, of Bellbrook, died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Grace Ritenour, in Dayton, at seven o'clock Sunday evening. She had not been well for several months, and it is believed that the recent death of her son-in-law, Dr. W. S. Ritenour, caused a nervous collapse that hastened her death.

Mrs. Turner was before her marriage Martha Cunningham, and was born and raised in Bellbrook where she spent all of her life. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and the County W. C. T. U. and was well known in the village where her husband conducted a grocery store for many years.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Turner is survived by three children, James Turner of Springfield, John of Bellbrook and Mrs. Grace Ritenour of Dayton. One son, Harry Turner, is dead and Mrs. Turner lives in Bellbrook. Two brothers, Charles and William Cunningham of Greenville and Mrs. J. W. Stevenson of Yellow Springs also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the home in Bellbrook Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, and burial will be made in the Bellbrook Cemetery.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

JUNIOR DEFINES LOVE AND LIKING

Two weeks later, and just two days before Junior went back to school, Dick came home. He did not look like a man who has been on a vacation. He looked worn, almost ill.

"He has been thinking what to do," flashed through my mind as I saw him. Nothing but mental strain ever brought such a look to anyone's face. Junior and I met his train. I was thankful that Junior was with us. It would have been almost impossible for me not to have shown I sensed something had I been alone with Dick. But even so he was distraught, quiet, seeming to listen to Junior but I knew by his expression that he scarcely heard a word.

"Der fell in love with Aunt Nita," Junior informed his father.

I was surprised to notice the start Dick gave until he said:

"Der—Der who?"

"Why Derreck, my buddy. He's been here visiting, and he fell for Aunt Nita the minute he saw her."

"How old is this young man?"

The question was asked smilingly, and with a note of relief in his voice and on his face.

"About my age, a month or two younger."

"Junior must feel flattered."

"She was awful nice to him, Dad. But not half as nice as Mother was. Even Buddy liked Mother the best if he was in love with Aunt Nita."

"What's the difference between loving and liking, Junior?" I asked, amused by his accenting the word.

"Why, you love people because you can't help it, I guess. You like them for something—well, for something in them, something they are, I should say. He blushed a little, then, 'And I'll tell the world that you are all right, Mother.'"

I smiled at the boy, but was sorry I had asked him to define love and liking. He had given a definition that made me uneasy. Love—because one couldn't help themselves—liking—because of some quality of character. Which would last the longer?

Dick had made no comment on Junior's definition, but he had flushed almost painfully.

Had Juanita fascinated him so that he couldn't help loving her, I wondered. Then I put the idea from my mind for the time. I was Dick's wife. By every means in my power I would hold him. I would not give him up without a struggle, of that I was positive. The struggle was not only for myself, but for Junior.

For the two days remaining of Junior's vacation Dick was with us a good deal, although I knew he had gone over to Juanita's the night he came home. He had remained but a short time, and had said something about finding out about a character in his book that troubled him, a man she had known.

I was surprised at first at his explanation. Then I thought of Junior—it was sort of an apology for leaving us. He had not felt it necessary to apologize to me. I had shown myself so dense there could be no need. But with the quick bright eyes and mind of his boy watching him, on the alert, the excuse seemed requisite.

While Dick had been away I had seen very little of Juanita in spite of the boys running there a good deal. It wasn't necessary, and I gave my work as an excuse for not torturing myself by being with her.

X X X

Junior had returned to school. Dick and I were once again alone in the house where I had anticipated such happiness and which I was afraid would prove my Cethsemane. The study that I had spent so much time and thought upon, was occupied again almost daily by Juanita and Dick in close and intimate conversation—or love-making.

When I tapped on the door and even a moment elapsed before Dick would say "come in," I could close my eyes and see her in his embrace. But I would go in, and compel myself to sit and chat with them, sometimes remaining until Juanita would declare she must go, and then proposing that we, Dick and I, walk home with her, so forstalling either of them in their wish to be alone.

I took great pains at this time with the home with my table, and with my own toilet. I used a little of the money I earned for a smart gown or two, with dainty accessories. I had no such desire for dress as I once had, yet I knew that Dick was pleased because I had spent the money—my own money.

"I wish you would use all you earn, Nan," he had once said and I had replied:

"I will when your book makes your fortune."

Now I fancied he felt differently about using the money I banked in our joint account. He had grown almost miserably as far as his own expenditures were concerned. It hurt me dreadfully, and also put the thought in my mind that now he had ceased to love me, he felt degraded in using my earnings.

But I comforted myself that the book was nearly finished. Juanita would soon have no excuse to come so often to the study.

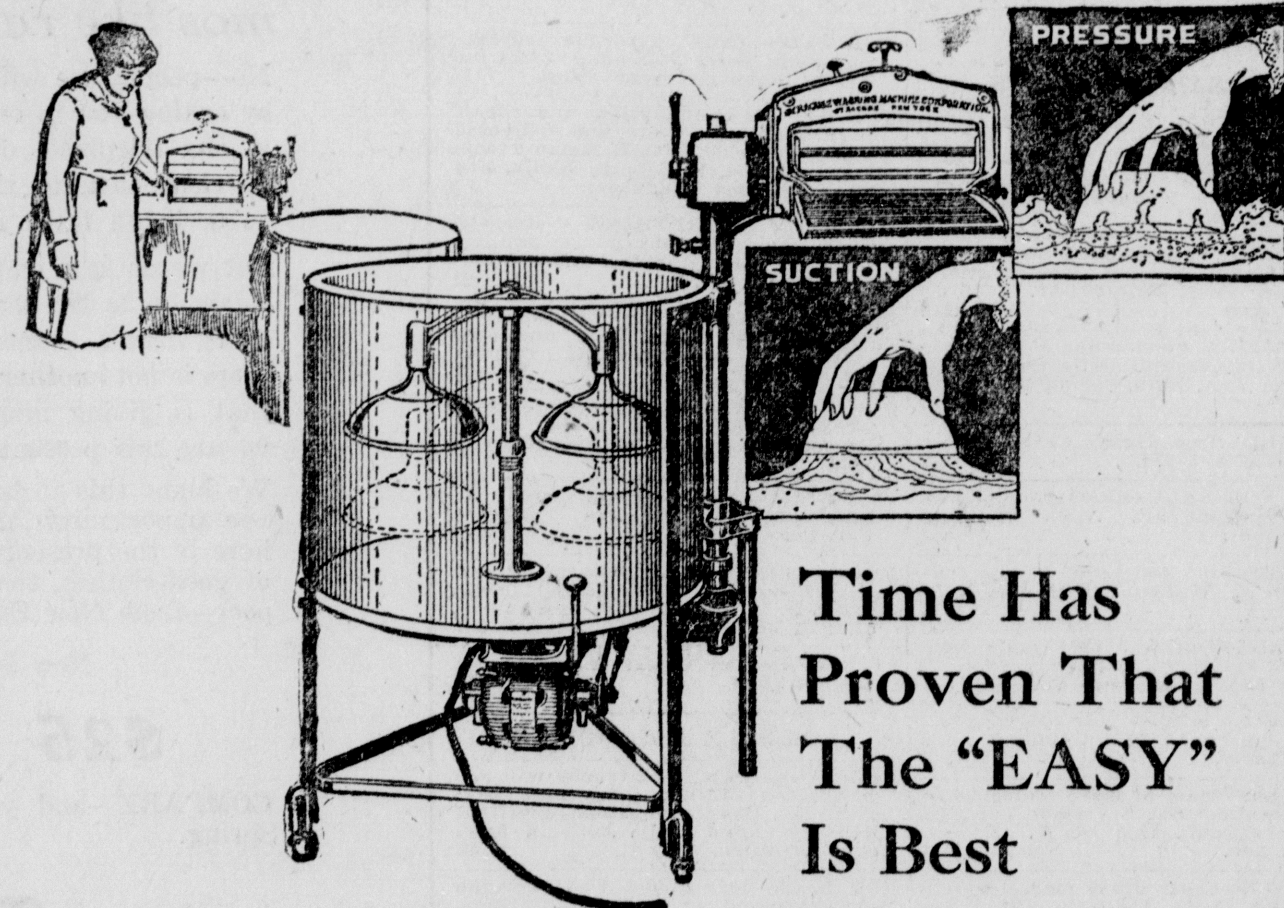

I had forgotten that love always finds a way.
